Order New Purge Of German Army; Junker Deserts

LONDON (AP)—The German radio said tonight that "the army has requested Hitler to carry out a purge in the army—to cleanse it of the July 20 traitors," and that Hitler had approved.

"A court of honor is to inquire into the attitude of the generals," the D.N.B. dispatch said. "Its function will be to investigate who had taken part in the plot (the July 20 attempted assassination of Hitler) and oust those who participated."

Among those on the court of inquiry, the official news agency listed Marshal von Rundstedt, deposed commander in France and frequently reported a victim of the purge. Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the high command, also was named for the court.

Reuters today reported the German radio as saying tonight "Artillery Gen. Lindemann had deserted to the Russians."

OTTAWA (CP)—Losses estimated at $1,000,000 resulted when an early morning fire of undetermined origin swept through Royal Canadian Army Service Corps garage at Lansdowne Park, destroying more than 50 military trucks and cars and a big quantity of valuable equipment.

The service corps garage and workshops were in the huge general purpose building of the Central Canada Exhibition group, which is in the south-central part of the city, near the Rideau Canal and adjacent to the Federal District Parkway.

South Africans First to Enter As Nazis Retire

ROME (AP) — The British 8th Army reached Florence today.

South African troops gained the outskirts of the city and patrols working forward found that five or six bridges across the Arno River within the city had been destroyed, Allied headquarters announced.

News of the triumph had been forecast in an earlier dispatch from the front, which said Allied entry into Florence appeared imminent, with the Germans falling back before the unrelenting pressure of New Zealand and South African troops.

The Germans were on the run back through Florence, and their guns flashed from the peaks which rise behind the Tuscan city.

Nazi forces departed Thursday night from a ridge south of the city. From that vantage point today Associated Press war correspondent Lynn Heinzerling looked down on Florence and through the smoke of German guns just outside the city was able to pick out glistening church domes.

Some of the Allied troops were less than three miles from the city. Lt.-Gen. B. C. Freyberg, V.C., commander of the New Zealanders, made plans for an entry by his troops, which have been on the go since the mattle of Crete

NAZIS 'DETACHED'

(Today's German communique said German troops had "detached themselves toward a narrow bridgehead immediately south of Florence," and claimed renewed Allied attacks against this position had been frustrated. It declared—without Allied confirmation—that Allied artillery fire was directed "on the historic city with its irreplaceable cultural treasures.")

The New Zealanders drove the Germans from high ground southwest of Florence in the advance to the River Greve.

The latest advance gave the 8th Army a strong hold on the hills two miles northeast of Lastomola. Giogoli, less than five miles southwest of Florence, was captured in the course of the thrust.

Enemy resistance continued strong due south of Florence, after the Nazis had pulled back and permitted South African armored units and a British Guards brigade to capture the important town of Impruneta, 5½ miles due south of Florence's outskirts.

Allies Reported Near St. Nazaire On French Coast

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS (AP) — U.S. troops were believed tonight to have swept close to St. Nazaire, virtually completing the cut-off of the Brest peninsula.

Advanced forces were believed well beyond any points thus far officially disclosed, the earlier headquarters announcement having said only that a U.S. armored column, by-passing the Brittany communications centre of Rennes, has driven 20 miles to the southwest—two-thirds of the distance across the Breton peninsula toward St. Nazaire.

In the middle of their shrinking line of organized resistance, the Germans lashed out at British-Canadian 2nd army troops with a series of tank-supported counter-attacks, forcing the British back more than 2,000 yards.

From the Canadian-held sector, in the Orne salient south of Caen, where another attack was launched Thursday on the bitterly-defended strongpoint of Tilly la Campagne, there was no report of changes in position.

DRIVE FOR BREST

As one U.S. force smashed toward St. Nazaire and was last reported five miles northeast of Pipriac, other 1st Army units drove west along the north side of the Breton peninsula toward Brest.

A field dispatch from the Rennes area Thursday night said street fighting was in progress in Rennes itself.

(Secretary of War Henry Stimson announced in Washington Thursday that Rennes had been occupied.)

As the U.S. columns pressed on towards the three great ports of Brest, Nantes and St. Nazaire and the German front of organized resistance in northwestern France shrank to a mere 35 miles.

It was estimated the total Nazi casualties since the invasion totaled 200,000 men—half the enemy's initial defence force.

Bedraggled German units which once hemmed in the Allies along a 100-mile expanse in Normandy were retreating in confusion and abandoning their equipment virtually everywhere except along a short stretch between Vire and Caen. The Allied offensive had developed into a sudden threat to the whole 40,000-square-mile Seine-Loire quadrangle of northwest France.

Faced with the growing danger of entrapment against the Orne River, the Germans near the middle of their still-organized line in Normandy staved off an immediate British threat to Aunay-sur-Odon. Bolstered by reinforcements from east of the Orne River, the Germans drove the British from the villages of St. Georges d'Aunay, La Lande and Le Manoir immediately west of Aunay.

A British staff officer discounted the German gains around Aunay, declaring the counterattacks might be the enemy's final gesture to cover a retreat from the river bastion.

Russians Speed Toward Silesia Deal New Blow on South Front

By DANIEL DE LUCE

MOSCOW (AP) — Russian hosts which smashed the German Vistula River line advanced swiftly today to within 91 miles of German Silesia while other army groups in the north shelled towns and villages inside prewar East Prussia from positions three miles from the frontier.

Another triumph in the Carpathians carried the Red Army within five miles of Czechoslovakia after chasing the Germans from Jabonkow, a short distance from the crest of Uzok Pass, through which Russia invaded Hungary in the First Great War.

TOWARD KRAKOW

Russian forces moved within 58 miles of Krakow, fifth city of prewar Poland, over difficult hill country. In this area west of the Vistula, some 110 miles below beleaguered Warsaw, the Russians were within 30 miles of Tarnow and 28 of Kielce (population 58,200), last large Nazi bastion before Krakow.

Official sources were silent on the siege of Warsaw, where Marshal Rokossovsky's army group was pulled up just east of the Polish capital. In the Baltic States, Russian tanks were patrolling the shores of the Gulf of Riga 25 miles west of Riga and Pravda said they were striking both east toward that capital of 393,000 and also west toward Liepaja, Latvia's second city and a west coast seaport.

PUSH DEEP WEDGE

Marshal Rokossovsky, while pinning a big group of the enemy's divisions in the Warsaw siege zone, broke lose with his left flank 110 miles southeast of the Polish capital, and pushed a wedge more than 17 miles deep from the Vistula bridgehead at Sandomierz.

A Moscow communique said 3,000 Germans were killed and 500 captured in the Vistula fighting.

The Russians stabbing ahead from Staszow were only 28 miles southeast of Kielcee, the Nazi stronghold and southern Polish rail centre on which the Germans depend for lateral communications with the Warsaw and Krakow fronts.

Soviet troops held the upper reaches of the Vistula under complete control. A giant encircling arm curving along the west bank threatened to cut off those Germans battling Marshal Ivan S. Konev's westward drive on Krakow. Konev's forces were approaching Tarnow, 45 miles to the east.

AT PRUSSIAN BORDER

Forces of Gen. Cherniakhovsky's 3rd White Russian Army threatened to spill into prewar East Prussia at any moment.

New gains included the capture of Viltraki, nine miles southeast of Schirwindt, East Prussian border city on the road to the Prussian rail centres of Tilsit and Insterburg, 40 miles from Schirwinot.

The Moscow communique said nearly 500 towns and villages were captured by the Russians on all fronts Thursday.

West of Rezekne, in eastern Latvia, 30 localities fell to the Red Army in an advance throwing the Germans back toward the Gulf of Riga after other Soviet forces had cut the Nazis' landward escape routes by seizing points on the gulf itself.

On the east Latvian front, Gen. Yeremenko's 2nd Baltic Army closed in on Krustpils, key rail junction 70 miles southeast of Riga.

Mackenzie King Announces Ban On B.C. Colonies

OTTAWA (CP)—Complete exclusion of Japanese immigration after the war was announced today as a government policy by Prime Minister King in a statement on Japanese in Canada.

A special commission will be set up to determine which Japanese are loyal and which disloyal, he said. Those disloyal would be sent to Japan, whether or not they were born there. Those loyal would be treated justly, but would not be allowed to congregate again in British Columbia.

Speaking of Japanese in Canada, Mr. King said 22,096 of 23,149 lived in British Columbia before the outbreak of war. It could not be said the government had left the problem to British Columbia during the war.

It was one to be faced "by the whole of Canada, as a Canadian problem," he said.

Ottawa Recognizes B.C.'s Great Interest

The government recognized the concern felt by British Columbia at again having most of the Japanese in Canada.

At the same time it was well to remember that generally speaking the Japanese had been loyal to Canada during the war.

"No person of Japanese origin, born in Canada, has been charged with any act of sabotage or disloyalty," said Mr. King.

Those who were shown to be disloyal to Canada should not be allowed to remain. Not all those who were interned were disloyal and not all those who were free were loyal.

For the future there should be no more immigration from Japan. That was a desirable policy although it should not be stated as binding for all time to come.

The government proposed to follow a "continental policy" with respect to the Japanese in Canada. A commission would be established to determine which Japanese were loyal. Those found to be disloyal, if British subjects, would be stripped of their citizenship. As one of the terms of peace Japan would be required to take them in.

Ask Co-operation Of Provinces

All Japanese found to be loyal were entitled to justice. The interests of the nation were paramount, but it was not necessary to descend to the standards set by the enemy.

It was neither good for Canada nor good for the Japanese Canadians that they congregate as an unassimilable bloc in British Columbia again.

With the co-operation of the provinces it should be possible to distribute them across Canada. A few thousand of them, none of whom had been disloyal under trying conditions, could not be regarded as a menace to Canada.

Jap Commission Awaits Instruction

VANCOUVER (CP)—The B.C. Security Commission said this afternoon instructions were being awaited concerning the policy with regard to the Japanese announced by Prime Minister King in the Commons today.

Commission officials said 15,000 Japanese remain in interior B.C. evacuee camps, and 7,568 others have already been moved to jobs in the east. Most of them have gone to Alberta and Ontario.

Russian Aid From B.C.

Latest contributions of $1,022.50 include $150 from National War Service Fund of Port Alberni, B.C.

The Last Picture

Bay Gives $100 to Fund

Scottish Comforts Fund today received $100 contributed jointly by the Hudson's Bay Company and the store's Beaver Club victory unit.

From Mrs. Josephine Cassidy, 464 Garbally Road, who is 79 years old, came a cheque for $5. Mrs. Cassidy said she enjoys a smoke so much herself she knows how much the boys of the Victoria and island regiment, 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish, appreciate the cigarettes received in Normandy.

Altogether $900 is needed each month to pay for 100,000 cigarettes promised by the women's auxiliary to the unit. These smokes are divided among the soldiers of the regiment in France and among the wounded who have been returned to England.

Reported today:

Hudson's Bay Company	$50.00

Farm Boy Murdered, Society Woman

SALINAS, Calif. (AP)—An attractive 38-year-old matron of elite Carmel Valley society awaited arraignment today on a charge of murdering a 19-year-old farm boy, shot a few hours after he had dined at the ranch home of another socialite.

Mrs. Frances Andrews, wife of an army corporal, was indicted by a Monterey County grand jury which heard a number of socially prominent Carmel residents and ranch hands tell of events preceding the death a Jay Lovett.

District Attorney Anthony Brazil said the motive for the shooting "obviously was jealousy." Near the spot where the youth's body lay, witnesses said, was found a gun which they identified as belonging to Mrs. Andrews.

Trouble Brewing in Cuba; Nazis Urge on Falangists

BY HERBERT J. SELIGMANN
Victoria Times Correspondent

WASHINGTON (Special)—U.S. Ambassador to Cuba, Spruille Braden, today made copies of two letters corroborating information to the effect that the chief centre of Nazi-Fascist propaganda in this hemisphere, outside of Argentina, is the Cuban Republic.

Ambassor Braden will remain here until the forthcoming visit of President Grau San Martin of Cuba, who will meet with President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull. Presumably, during that visit, the subject of Falangist activities in Cuba will be discussed by the Cuban and American presidents.

Following is the history of events in the present Falangist upsurge in Cuba:

APPROVED MUSSOLINI

About a year ago the head of El Diario was Pepin Rivera, who in a column he wrote under the title, "Impresiones," said President Roosevelt had been mistaken when he characterized the Italian attack on France as a "stab in the back." This same column praised Mussolini as a great man, and went on to say that the killing of the American aviators who bombed Tokyo was not an act of "treachery," the net effect of the column being to justify the Japanese.

This column was the subject of devastating comment at a Havana Rotary Club gathering by Ambassador Braden. Pepin, when he died, was succeeded as director of Diario by his son-in-law, Sosa, who has been known in Cuba as a mouthpiece for the Pro-Nazi Falangists.

THREATEN LIVING STANDARD

On July 6 a speech was made by the American Embassy's counsellor, A. F. Nufer, on the "future of Cuba's economy." In that speech Nufer said that inasmuch as Cuba was now a high-cost producer of sugar, it must seriously consider its position in the postwar era.

Diario, in a front-page editorial implied Nufer had said Cuba's standard of living must be drastically reduced, and that Cuba would have to return to a colonial status.

This editorial, together with a featured letter attacking Pan-American Airways and the Pepsi-Cola Company, on the alleged ground that they were abusing their Cuban employees, Ambassador Braden is reported to have shown Dr. Angulo, saying that both editorial and letter were misstatements.

In addition to these anti-American attacks by the Falangist Diario, there are other manifestations of Nazi-inspired activity in Cuba. Hector Pages Canton, a Cuban congressman of the coalition party, declared publicly that Cuba should follow Argentina's course of action. It is known that there is plenty of Falangist money in Cuba, some of it coming from Spain, some from Nazi Germany, and some from Cuban Falangists.

Thus powerful elements in Cuba join those who under the leadership of the Farrell group in Argentina are seeking to undermine Pan-American unity and economic solidarity.

'DOWN GRADING' COFFEE

In Cuba this Nazi-inspired activity takes the form of a "raise the sugar price" campaign, sponsored by Diario. Elsewhere in South America the same sort of campaign affects coffee. On July 19, it was announced that Colombia planned to reduce its shipments of coffee to the United States from 5,000,000 bags to 3,150,000 bags in the quota year beginning Oct. 1, 1944.

It is reported that these reduced coffee shipments may result in a down-grading of coffee for United States consumers, while Nazi-inspired sources tell the producers to hold their coffee until Hitler can buy it at higher prices and deliver them low-priced manufactured goods in exchange.

PART OF PATTERN ATTACK

Falangist and Nazi sources are reported to intend waging a determined campaign for economic footholds, if not domination in this hemisphere, and that the Diario attacks, the sugar and coffee campaigns against the United States form part of this pattern. Meanwhile, Paraguay is reported to be terrorized by Argentina's economic pressure, and that pressure is strong on Chile and Brazil.

Commenting on the Falangist and Nazi-inspired campaign in the Americas, Ambassador Braden said:

"We must affirm the good-neighbor policy as originally stated by President Roosevelt. We must respect ourselves and the rights of others. That is an expression of the best way to obtain amity in this hemisphere."

'Boy' Movie Star Faces Grave Charge

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Arthur F. Scherr, St. Joseph County prosecutor, said today affidavits had been filed charging four persons, including Jackie Cooper, 22, of Beverly Hills, Calif., whom he identified as a star in a recent movie called "Where Are Your Children?" with contributing to and encouraging the delinquency of minors.

Stalin Has Talk With Chief of Poles Exiled in London

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Stalin conferred for 2½ hours Thursday night with Premier Mikolajczyk, leader of the Polish government in London, who came here for discussions of the Polish-Russian question.

No official statement was issued afterwards.

Mikolajczyk, who was received with formal diplomatic courtesies at the Kremlin, was accompanied by his Foreign Minister, Tadeusz Romer, and Prof. Grabsky, a Polish boundary expert. Previously Mikolaczyk and Romer had been received for half an hour by Soviet Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov, but their discussion was believed confined to generalities.

SUPPORT COMMITTEE

The Soviet press expressed the view meanwhile that Gen. Kazimierz Sosnkowski, commander-in-chief of the London Polish government forces, and his intimates were unacceptable to the Russians, and that the Polish Committee of National Liberation, formerly in Russia, was the proper government for the unification of Poland politically.

Anglo-American diplomatic quarters maintained an attitude of "restrained optimism" that a Polish rapprochement might be achieved; but Mikolajczyk had the doubly difficult task of trying to satisfy the majority of his government in London, as well as the Polish National Committee.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia described the National Committee as "created by the Polish people, and really uniting all the democratic elements of the Polish nation fighting for liberation and the recreation of their government."

Referring to Mikolajczyk's trip to Moscow only once, Izvestia said "London observers view that minister's 'exiled government' as ready for a radical reorganization."

Allied Communique 118

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS (CP)—Communique No. 118:

Allied forces have reached Rennes and have elements south of the town.

Another column has advanced through Dol and moving westward along the north side of the Brittany Peninsula, has reached the area of Dinan.

Other Allied formations east of the Percy-Villedieu road have captured Beaumesnil and are now in the area St. Sever Calvados. Farther south our forces have captured Mortain.

In the area southeast of Caumont Allied troops have made progress towards Villers Bocage and Aunay, where there has been some hard fighting. We hold the Bois de Buron.

There has been a series of enemy counterattacks along the entire front from the north and east of Le Beny Bocage.

Good weather yesterday afternoon and evening allowed Allied fighters and fighter-bombers, some carrying rockets, to give close support to the ground forces. Barges on the Seine and ammunition dumps southeast of Caen, gun positions and a considerable number of enemy vehicles were destroyed.

Bridges near Paris, Orleans, Chartres and Rouen were bombed with satisfactory results by medium and light bombers yesterday. Other formations attacked an ammunition dump at Mainteno.

Three marshaling yards and an oil dump in Alsace-Lorraine, objectives near Paris and Brussels, and a synthetic oil plant and storage depot near Douai were hit by strong forces of heavy bombers. Accompanying fighters attacked rolling stock, power stations and other targets.

One of a formation of five E-boats was sunk by a direct bomb hit by coastal aircraft in an attack on the Channel Islands.

A force of enemy E-boats was intercepted Thursday morning west of Cap de le Havre by light naval cosatal forces. In a short action which followed, one of the enemy was sunk and another damaged before he made good his escape towards Le Havre.

Debt Legislation Soon in Sask.

EDMONTON, Alta. (CP)—Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan said in an interview here today that a special session of the new Legislature of Saskatchewan would be called in the first week of October to provide debt legislation for protection of Saskatchewan farmers.

"We won't need to call the special session any sooner," the C.C.F. premier said. "The mortgage companies had already started pressing our farmers when we called them in and warned we would pass a general moratorium by order-in-council if they continued that way. They stopped."

The Saskatchewan leader said debt legislation in Saskatchewan would not be patterned on Alberta laws, but would strike out on a new line.

WEATHER FACTOR

A crop failure clause is to be made mandatory in all bills of sale and mortgages of farms, and exemption is to be provided for a farmer's "home quarter" of land.

In addition, a regulation is to be passed allowing farmers to set aside sufficient proceeds of their crops to see them through the winter, which will be free from attachment.

The premier expressed confidence his recent proposals to Ottawa regarding a scale-down of seed grain advance debt would receive approval in the Dominion capital.

"We've got them over a barrel, as they are final guarantors," Mr. Douglas said. "We don't want to repudiate, but we're not going to pay the full amount owing."

Says Pensions Dept. Fails in Duties

TORONTO (CP)—The Globe and Mail in a dispatch from Ottawa said today that "failure of the Pensions and Health Department, of which Ian Mackenzie is the responsible minister, to discharge its duties in preparing adequate hospitalization for war casualties, has been extended to the soldier civil rehabilitation program."

The story continued:

"According to authorities, the action of the three services last April in appointing their own rehabilitation branches came directly from the dissatisfaction held by Defence Ministers Ralston, Power and Macdonald with the efforts of Mr. Mackenzie's department.

"For some time there have been openly discussed reports on Parliament Hill that the ministers, and particularly Col. Ralston, have been at odds with their colleague.

"On the rehabilitation angle, it is suggested the pensions and health department program is an excellent one—on paper—and that in final analysis it is the army, navy and air force special rehabilitation branches that have taken the lead in getting men places in civilian occupations."

Merriman Round-up . . .

EX-AIR FORCE MAN, back from overseas, hopes employers will give returning service people a break if they seem erratic at times. Many of those now getting back into civilian life have been living at high tension for two or three years and it will take them some time to get back to normal, he says. His comment was prompted by an editorial on Buzz Beurling, criticizing the air hero for putting personal preference first in quitting instructional duty to seek combat duty in China. Thousands of men in the service are doing duties equally as distasteful to them as instructional duty is to Buzz was the editorial argument. A First Division sergeant back from Italy with a wound and decoration also steps into the discussion a little bitterly. He has been assigned to instruction duty here, "but," he says, "I, too, would rather go to China than be associated with or take orders from Canada's homemade officers. Over in the First Division we call them 15-cent store commissions."

H. M. VAUGHAN writes to say he is glad so many Canadians have married English girls as he brought back to B.C. a lovely wife himself. "It is a distressing fact," he says, "that many thousands in Britain can not marry because there are more women than men and a man is allowed only one wife. Many Canadians prefer English girls because they treat you royally!" Vaughan adds . . . Opinions on any subject, even marriage, differ. Another correspondent, for instance, sends in this quip: "It is likely that heaven would enjoy an even better reputation if it were not regarded as the place where marriages are made."

Vatican Reshaping Policy To Fit Changed World

By DONALD BELL

WASHINGTON, D.C. — There is a fresh diplomatic breeze blowing through Vatican City these days and it appears to be coming from Teheran, with stopovers at Washington, Moscow and London.

We may expect to see a completely new policy emerge from the Holy See. In its larger aspects, that policy will probably seek to fit the Catholic world into the new global structure outlined at Teheran. In its narrower lines, we may look for an early agreement between the Vatican and the Soviet Union.

Many signs point in this direction. Secretary Stimson has had an audience with the Pope and Myron Taylor is an almost daily guest at the Vatican. Something big is going on. There was a hint that the Vatican relations with the Soviet Union were under discussion, one report declaring Taylor particularly touched on that delicate subject in his conversations.

The Holy See, determined to stay neutral, is nevertheless reshaping its whole policy.

The Pope personally receives Canadian and American newsmen after the entry of Allied troops into Rome, distributes to them photographs of himself and rosaries.

RELIGIOUS CONSEQUENCES

The outcome of the war will have some religious consequences welcome to the Catholic church, especially in Germany, where the Nazi regime was sometimes violently, sometimes quietly anti-Catholic. It is there that the Catholic church will regain lost ground.

But there is another aspect much more vital to long-range Catholic policy. The big three which will determine the future of the Earth are America, Britain and the Soviet Union. America and Britain are predominantly Protestant countries, though not at all inimical to Catholicism and friendly to all religions.

Russia for a quarter of a century was a godless country and is only now becoming tolerant.

All Catholic nations, except those in Latin America, will be relative losers, even if they are actually among the victors.

OLD LANDS RECEDE

There is, first of all, Italy, no longer among the big nations. There is Hungary, possible object of a revolution.

There is Austria, which even after her liberation will get only a very modest place in European politics. There is Slovakia, which betrayed the Czechoslovak community, and where the leading Catholic party certainly will get severe treatment.

In Germany Catholics are two thirds of the population and were strong in the Weimar Republic. But the Reich as a whole will have lost its influence.

There is France, a Catholic country where Petain tried to establish a reactionary state on a religious basis, which will be detrimental to the influence of the church. But, however that may be, France will not emerge as a strong power comparable to the big three, and it will suffer the consequences of defeat and domestic strife.

And there is Spain, where the Franco regime again is threatened and a new republic may arise. But even if a new monarchy with strong religious ties is born, Spain will not play a prominent role in world politics.

There is, finally, Catholic Poland, which certainly will lose much of her eastern territory. Poland may receive some Catholics in Silesia, but there are only Protestants in the more northern parts she is demanding. But Poland will have to live in the political orbit of the Soviet Union.

The Catholic Church will not be threatened in any of these countries. But the Vatican recognizes that the political influence of all the Catholic nations together will be weakened, and that some of them may lose their old conservative structure. This is a brand new situation for the Vatican, whose ambitions are mainly religious and spiritual, but which nevertheless influences world politics through some political institutions.

POPE SAW IT COMING

The Vatican saw this state of affairs approaching. That was the reason—and not any friendship for Fascist ideologies—why Vatican diplomacy favored a negotiated peace. But the Pope knows now that the time for such a peace has passed.

The Catholic world must find its place in the new world structure outlined in the Teheran agreement. The two Anglo-Saxon nations, and especially the United States, would heartily welcome such a reorientation of the Vatican. It would place the future world on more solid ground and eliminate many frictions which otherwise are certain in Europe and, very important for us, in Latin America. Freedom of worship is one of the basic ideas of our world concept, and the lack of it was for a long time a stumbling block in our relations with Moscow. An outburst of anti-religious feeling in the sphere of one of the big three or a permanent conflict between the Soviet Union and the Catholic Church could shape the world structure envisaged at Teheran.

GIVES BENEDICTION TO ALL

We can now understand many Vatican developments of the last few weeks. British and American troops who passed through Rome, for example, got the Papal benediction before they went into battle. That does not affect the neutrality of the Pope, but it is more than he did for the German troops in Rome.

Everyone in the Holy City has the feeling that the Pope is acting much more freely now than under the German occupation. The Holy Father received the new Roman City Council, among them two members of the Communist Party. On that occasion, he granted the apostolic benediction only to those united in the faith, but he accorded a second, general benediction to all, includ. Socialists and Communists.

The leader of the Italian Communists, Togliatti, is a close friend of Stalin and lived 15 years in Moscow as an exile; he is now a minister without portfolio in the Bonomi cabinet and as such is not especially entitled to handle foreign relations. Yet he was received in a special audience by the acting secretary of state of the Vatican, who could have chosen another contact man with the new Italian government. And the case of Father Orlemanski is still another indication that the Vatican is considering a new policy toward the Communists, that is, toward Russia.

Little People Now Paying Dearly For Italy's Ignominious War Role

By VICTOR M. BIENSTOCK
Victoria Times Correspondent

ROME—There is not a building left intact today on the main streets of any town or village along the 120-odd-mile famed Appian Way from Naples to Rome. Gaunt teetering walls, pock-marked by shellfire, huge grim piles of rubble, twisted ironwork, roofless shells of houses with gaping walls and windows, mutilated statuary in the town squares are all that remain of once populous and industrious little towns and villages.

Extent of the damage is a measure of the savagery of the fighting just a few short months ago as Allied forces battered their way along Route Seven to the gates of Rome, their goal. At Capua, one can almost reconstruct the course of the bloody battle of the crossing of the Volturno from the destruction of the bridge, the shelling, first by one side, then the other, to dislodge the foe, and the bitter house-to-house fighting.

STILL MINE-SOWN

The story can be repeated all along the route — Cascano, Minturno, Fondi, Formia, Terracina, Castera, Velletri, Gensano and a dozen other towns and villages where the Germans sought to halt the Allied advance. Between Terracina and Lanuvio, flooded fields and houses standing in shallow lakes show where the Germans tried to halt the Allies by flooding the reclaimed Pontine Marshes and washing out the roads.

Around the towns, green crops flourish in the fields. It comes as a shock to see an isolated farmhouse burned and shelled out, miles from any military objective. Here and there a peasant and his wife potter about in the fields, oblivious of the fact they may be sown with mines. Signs along the road warn traffic that mines have been cleared only for a depth of 20 feet on each side of the highway. The advance was too rapid for Allied engineers to do more than clear the highways for military transport requirements.

MAYBE NOT UNTIL GERMANS QUIT

In the towns, too, people are returning to sites of their former homes. They work around aimlessly, shifting debris almost haphazardly, unaware or uncaring what dangers it may conceal—unexploded shells, mines or booby-traps. Old men and women sit before their former homes, waiting and silently watching the traffic. Destruction, disaster and death, incongruous under the brilliant Italian summer sky, and people numbed by their overwhelming misfortune. Italy's role in the war was ignominious and her little people today are paying for it dearly.

So far, little has been done in the way of reconstruction. The Allied Control Commission has health, security and other representatives in most of the towns, advising on the necessary, immediate measures. Where the damage has been comparatively slight, they have, in many cases, succeeded in getting life going again. But the greater part of the job still remains to be undertaken.

This requires manpower, transportation facilities, equipment and materials. All that is available today is the manpower. ACC officials hope that Italian mine and bomb disposal squads will soon be available to clear the damaged areas. But it will be a long time before transportation facilities and supplies will permit a start in the reconstruction of these towns, probably not until the Germans have been driven out of Italy. Meanwhile, fierce battles north of Rome and Nazi looting and deliberate devastation are adding to the problem this unlucky land will have to face.

Alberta Independent Urges Freer Markets

MEDICINE HAT, Alta. (CP) — The only way prosperity could be maintained in Canada after the war was by freer markets in the world, James Walker, Independent party leader said in an Alberta election campaign speech here Thursday night. "Tariff barriers must be broken down," he added.

He said prosperity depended on adequate markets for surplus goods. Markets available at the present time were 80 per cent temporary, and 20 per cent permanent, he said.

"There must be freer trade between nations in the postwar period, to insure the exchange of all surplus goods, and thus make all nations properous," he said.

Speaking on behalf of J. A. Bell, Independent candidate in Medicine Hat, and C. M. Moore, Independent candidate in Cypress, Mr. Walker leveled most of his criticism at the financial policies of the Social Credit government. Large sums of money would be necessary in the postwar period for rehabilitation, he said, and until the credit of the province was restored, money would not be available from outside sources.

Manning States No Coalition for Alberta by S.C.

EDMONTON (CP)—Alberta is recognized throughout Canada "as the most progressive province in every social and public field," Premier Manning said in an election campaign speech here Thursday night.

Voters in Alberta, by electing a Social Credit government in 1935 and 1940 "have pulled Alberta from its backward position to its advanced position where it is recognized throughout Canada," he said.

The premier later appeared on a platform with leaders of the other four parties contesting Edmonton seats. Answering a question, Mr. Manning said the S.C. government, if re-elected Aug 8, would "definitely" not form a coalition government.

All the speakers—including Elmer Roper, C.C.F. leader; James Macpherson, Labor-Progressive leader; J. Percy Page, Independent, and W. J. Williams, Veterans' candidate—spoke of the measure passed at the last session of the Legislature lowering the voting age from 21 to 19 years. All stressed need for young people to take advantage of the opportunity.

TAX ON INTEREST

Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan told a Calgary audience his government believed it could tax interest now leaving the province when paid to companies with headquarters in eastern Canada. Mr. Douglas was elected leader of the first C.C.F. government last June.

"We believe we can get money from the mortgage companies which obtain large sums from the west although they have not even an office in the west," he said.

"There are monopolies controlling essential commodities, with the prices fixed in eastern Canada. In Saskatchewan we believe we can tell such monopolies they must sell through a government board at fair prices. By this method we believe that some of the profits can be held for the people."

EXCLUSION OF JAPANESE

MR. MACKENZIE KING'S ANNOUNCEment in the House of Commons today of complete exclusion of Japanese immigration after the war, as a government policy, will be warmly commended by the great majority of the Canadian people. And the Prime Minister's intention to establish a special commission to determine which Japanese in Canada are loyal and which disloyal likewise will be endorsed with similar enthusiasm. Those who are proved to be disloyal, he says, will be returned to Japan, whether or not they were born there, while the loyal ones will be treated with justice. But on no account, Mr. King made it clear, would Japanese again be allowed to congregate in British Columbia.

Those who have consistently argued that these people—most of them with a dual loyalty—are nonassimilable, and are scarcely likely to be otherwise, will not mind being called un-Christian by the members of Canada's third political party who have set themselves up as the special guardians of the sons of Nippon, regardless of their background and secret ambitions. The announcement of the Prime Minister, moreover, would seem to imply agreement with the attitude taken by the citizens of British Columbia toward this whole question—an attitude dictated by the force of tragic events and an appropriate regard for the future safety of the nation.

PARLEYS TO BEGIN SOON

SOME TIME THIS MONTH IN WASHington the first step toward the establishment of a world security agency will be taken. The four principal Allies—Great Britain, the United States, the Soviet Union and China—will send their representatives. Russia and China will not collaborate at the same meetings so long as a state of peace exists between the Soviet and Japan. What they talk about and perhaps agree upon in private is beside the question. The general deliberations, however, will conform to clauses four and five of the Moscow Declaration of Oct. 30, 1943, which read:

"That they (the four participating nations) recognize the necessity of establishing at the earliest practicable date a general international organization, based on the principle of the sovereign equality of all peace-loving states, and open to membership by all such states, large and small, for the maintenance of international peace and security.

"That for the purpose of maintaining international peace and security pending the establishment of law and order and the inauguration of a system to general security, they will consult with one another and as occasion requires with other members of the United Nations with a view to joint action on behalf of the community of nations."

Secretary of State Cordell Hull's statement the other day indicated that it had been decided, following discussions with the other governments, that the first phase of the conversations will be between representatives of the United Kingdom, the United States and the Soviet Union, and that conversations on the same subject between representatives of the United States, the United Kingdom and China will be carried on either at the same time or shortly thereafter. These conversations will be followed by discussions with the other United Nations.

It should be noted that these conversations are to be of an exploratory nature. It is nevertheless important that they are to begin. They will be watched by a great public the world over which insists that statesmen make no mistake about the peace this time. And a good beginning is worth much.

HE NEEDS MIRACLES NOW

WHEN HE MADE HIS FIRST REPORT to the House of Commons about the depredations of Hitler's robot planes a month ago, Mr. Churchill indicated that before relief could be expected it was highly probable worse attacks would be felt. The details of death and destruction which he itemized in his speech on Wednesday confirmed the grounds of his apprehension. And he is evidently convinced that further deviltry is afoot in the shape of still more devastating packets of explosives. Allied air commanders continue to concentrate on efforts to knock out the menace at its source; huge weights of bombs continue to rain on installations on the French coast and on industrial plants where jet-propulsion engines for these missiles are fabricated. Both Peenemuende on the Baltic Sea, the birthplace of the pilotless plane, and Zinnowitz, a robot experimental station some dozen miles away, have received particular attention from British, Canadian and United States heavy bombers—likewise a limestone cave at Thiverny, 30 miles northeast of Paris, where it is thought these contrivances are stored and assembled.

Ghastly as is the experience of those hapless folk within the range of these hideous missiles, it would be interesting to learn if the Fuehrer really feels he is getting his money's worth out of his so-called secret weapon, or what kind of relief his harassed generals in France are obtaining through the indiscriminate slaughter of innocent civilians and the destruction of houses in London and elsewhere. Certainly no military dividends are being returned; as each day passes the plight of Field Marshal von Kluge's divisions grows steadily worse. And even the Nazi high command is not so foolish as to believe that this or any other "secret weapon" can produce new German manpower, rebuild bridges in strategic areas, turn out badly-needed locomotives overnight, or halt in any way the inexorable Allied movement from three points of the compass which is taking the fighting nearer and nearer to German soil. Only a miracle would serve Hitler at this stage.

NOT SO EASY AFTER ALL

AT A MEETING IN CALGARY LAST night, Saskatchewan's C.C.F. Premier Douglas said his government—"as would a C.C.F. government if it were elected at the general election in Alberta next Tuesday"—had to face the problem of where money required to extend social services would come from. And he told his audience that because the provinces were without power to create money and had to have revenue, "we propose to get the money from the people who have it rather than from those who can't afford it."

Accepting the thesis that blood cannot be extracted from a stone, most people will agree with the general principle which Premier Douglas advocates for the collection of funds, always assuming, of course, that he knows whereof he speaks. He argues that "there are monopolies controlling essential commodities, with the prices fixed in eastern Canada," and that "in Saskatchewan we believe we can tell such monopolies they must sell through a government board and at fair prices," because "by this method we believe that some of the profits can be held for the people."

Not knowing at what monopolies Premier Douglas was shooting his economic arrow, it is impossible to comment. But in view of what he and his fellow candidates and imported speakers had to say in the recent election campaign in Saskatchewan, most people were led to believe that only they had the key to the Promised Land. Now it seems that Canada's first C.C.F. government has suddenly discovered what every intelligent Canadian has long known—that a lot of ifs and buts which an opposition ignores invariably loom large and formidable before the eyes of that opposition as soon as it finds itself in office.

It can be said for Premier Douglas, however, that he avoided even the faintest imitation of the formula which British Columbia's Harold Winch laid down in that same city of Calgary last December. For that, perhaps, Mr. Coldwell is saying much thanks. The head of the new government of Saskatchewan is an experienced politician. He knows that "militant measures" will not show him the shortest way to a solution of "the problem" of where the money is to come from. His remarks in the Albertan city are nevertheless worth noting for the record.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

FROM YEAR TO YEAR SINCE 1939, THE progressive increase in juvenile delinquency has been viewed by social students as an alarming war phenomenon on the home front. Fortunately, indications are that the growth has been arrested. The peak year, according to returns now available, was 1942. Since then a substantial decline in the rate has set in.

According to the report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics just completed, the number of juveniles brought before the courts of Canada during 1943 was 12,225. The figure for 1942 was 13,802. This represents a decrease of 11.4 per cent during the last year. It nevertheless leaves the total still 28.7 per cent greater than in 1939. Juveniles convicted last year numbered 10,296, compared with 11,758 in 1942, a decrease of 13.2 per cent, or 35.2 per cent higher than the 1939 total of 7,613.

The largest percentage decreases last year under 1942 in convictions are shown by the provinces least affected by war services movements. Alberta shows a decrease of 46.5 per cent, Manitoba 27.2, Quebec 21.0, Prince Edward Island 11.9, Saskatchewan 9.7, Ontario 4.9. Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, with their overcrowded ocean ports, showed increases for the year of 38.2 and 22.6 respectively. However, British Columbia, with its Pacific Ocean ports and a large percentage of war personnel, showed a decrease of 0.5 per cent for the year.

The figures for Canada are paralleled by those from England just made public by the British Information Services. These show that 1942 was also the worst year over there, and that a descending curve of juvenile delinquency set in last year, the decrease for the period being 8 per cent. There, as here, the high mark was reached during the time of greatest war dislocation. The British report also points out that even at its highest point, the proportion of delinquents over there to the total number of juveniles was very small—only 1.6 per cent of the boys aged 14-16, and 0.19 per cent of the girls of the same ages. The percentages for Canada would be roughly the same.

There is encouragement in the indications in the reports that the peak has been passed; also, in the deductions that may be drawn that increasing juvenile delinquency is not as alarming as many people had thought. However, taking the most optimistic interpretation of the figures, there is no denying the fact that they face us with a serious domestic problem and will continue to do so until they are brought down to the prewar level—and lower.

The girl with the nicest figure these days has it in Victory Bonds.

Those German generals are having a lot less trouble than some politicians deciding on whether or not they want to run.

Bruce Hutchison

THE DECLINE OF MUSTARD

THE statesmen, politicians and economists all seem to have overlooked one of the major problems of the war. Even the public, I regret to report, is singularly indifferent to it. I mean, of course, the decline of mustard.

Before the war mustard was a simple article of commerce. It had no complicated traditions and it involved no controversies. You did not argue about it, as of the virtues of old wine or tobacco. You just bought mustard. Then the chemists, pursuing their ruthless campaign to reorganize the world in their test tube, finally discovered mustard. That was the end of it. Having exhausted every other field of human development, having made automobiles out of soya beans and sausage casings out of pine trees, the chemists had nothing else to do. So they applied their devilish ingenuity to mustard.

The results were first detected by an investigator whom modesty forbids me to name. Suffice it to say that this investigator suddenly found, about two years ago, that mustard no longer retained its fine old virgin flavor but had been polluted by the addition of some harmless drug which the chemists had added to improve its taste. I cannot describe this ingredient except to say that it tastes like the smell of expensive perfume. Now perfume is all right in its place, on a beautiful lady, but not in a mustard pot. Glamour should not be added to roast beef. Sex appeal should be forgotten when you sit down to enjoy a baked ham. Women should be kept out of it altogether, except in the cooking.

NO lover of mustard will eat the modern improvement. The real palates of the nation have given up eating mustard altogether. As mustard is essential to the consumption of many meats, these men of taste have practically stopped eating and are slowly starving to death for their principles. But nobody gives them any credit, for it suddenly appears, on serious study, that the nation at large has no palate at all and actually likes the glamorous new mustard. The manufacturers of mustard, therefore, need have no fear of losing business. The public has accepted glamour with its dinner.

This is a discovery shocking to sensitive men, but its truth is proved by all the public opinion polls. This investigator personally has studied the people's reaction from coast to coast. He has followed the scent of mustard across the entire continent, sniffing it like a hound dog. And in countless restaurants, hotels and dining-cars he has sought out the opinion of the Canadian people by skilful and insinuating questions.

Without prejudicing the public by expressing an opinion himself, with the deceptive innocence which all poll-takers must cultivate, he has asked casually what the man across the table thinks about the mustard. It turns out that he has never thought about it at all and is surprised to be asked. This in itself is a serious sign of decadence for, as Dr. Johnson said, or should have said, a man who does not think of mustard seldom thinks at all; and while Charles Lamb confessed he had no ear, he proved the virtues of his palate in his immortal struggle with roast pork. Classical study will reveal that the history of our British race is largely built around mustard, but the Canadian citizen has stopped thinking about it.

And when he does think about it, when he is plied with questions, when he is told frankly that the chemists have spoiled the mustard, a still more disquieting fact is disclosed. For the man across the table, sampling the mustard on his tongue, says, if he is honest, that he cannot see anything wrong with it.

HENCE the deep despair of the world's future among the Canadians who know mustard when they taste it. There are not many of them, about half a dozen, according to my latest reckoning. We have rushed together in brotherhood and formed a secret lodge, and when any man is discovered who will admit that mustard is not what it used to be he is embraced and enters the inner circle. It is our intention ultimately to bootleg the true elixir, if we can get it, to smuggle it secretly across international boundaries, to dispense it under cover of night in dark basements, to build up a mustard elite and then to move in and take over the government.

We do not go in for complicated national plans as the C.C.F. does. We do not intend to Make This Your Canada. We just intend to make the people eat mustard again. It is not a crusade to save the nation, but only to save the national palate. I confess that the national palate shows no special desire to be saved.

HAVE WE LEARNED?

From St. Louis Post Dispatch

"Disarmed, disfranchised, terrorized," says Louis P. Lochner, former A.P. chief in Berlin, writing of the frustrated assassination attempt, "millions of Germans . . . looked to the decent element in the German army to do something to end Hitler's tyranny."

Are millions of Germans, then, misled about the character and purposes of those who husband and manage the army? Do they think that their salvation lies in a change from fanatical militarism to cold-blooded militarism?

Important though they are, these questions are less vital to us than some others we may ask ourselves. Did we learn anything from 1918 and the years that followed? Will we, this time, have the clear-eyed realism and surgical courage to eliminate a cult of Teutonic war-mongers which has survived every change in the political administration of Germany?

If not, we may as well begin to get unprepared for the next war.

News Analysis—The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The fast-moving drive into Brittany seems to be developing into a race to determine whether the U.S. armored columns can overrun the great peninsula with its magnificent ports before the weakened Germans can bring up reinforcements.

Although the southern two-thirds of the base is still open, the Allied air armada is rendering communications highly precarious. The sky navy is a major factor in this battle of lightning movement which may teach Hitler something about the blitz warfare he initiated in 1939 with so much bombast.

The Breton peninsula is a pearl of great price. Not only will its fine ports greatly increase the Allies' capacity to pour troops and materiel into France, but—and this is of great importance—Hitler's U-boats have been using Brest, Lorient and St. Nazaire as prime bases from which to raid Allied shipping.

Berlin now admits that Marshal Rommel, field commander on the invasion front, suffered concussion of the brain, although he is said to be doing well. One wonders how much the Nazis have felt the loss of his undoubted skill. They likely wish now he could have remained on the job, to settle the argument with his old antagonist, Montgomery, but for my money Monty is the better man by a long way.

Domestic Jobs Lack Privacy, Dignity

By RUTH MILLETT

A group of church women in New York, studying the problem of postwar employment of women, asked a group of women who had formerly worked as cooks, maids and housekeepers, why they left domestic work for other fields.

Two of the main reasons were: "Lack of privacy and lack of sufficient dignity associated with the work."

That isn't very complimentary to women as employers, but no woman can deny the truth of the accusations.

Backin the days when women had maids, their get-togethers usually included a session of gossipying about the girls and women who work for them.

"Mary has a new beau," Mrs. Jones would say, "and she is so thrilled it's funny." And then Mrs. Jones would go on to poke fun at Mary and her beau for the amusement of all the other women present. Women, for some reason or other, think is always something hilarious about a servant being in love.

SUPERIOR ATTITUDE

When the women were through laughing about that, Mrs. Smith would say she had missed a new pair of silk stockings (which she probably later found just where she put them), and she couldn't help wondering whether her new maid had helped herself to them.

That is another thing about women, they always start out by doubting the honesty of anyone who works in their kitchens.

And then Mrs. Brown would tell a series of dumb things her maid did or said—and there was a lot more superior laughter.

Yes, it's generally true that the women who go into domestic work haven't any more privacy than goldfish. Because the average housewife looks on a maid as an amusing topic of conversation—instead of as another human being with a human being's right to dignity.

International Dancer Visiting Victoria

An internationally known dancer, Mrs. Louise Mercer Henderson, has come to Victoria for a short visit and is a visitor at the Empress. Her husband, Ensign H. J. Henderson of the United States navy is in Nanaimo in charge of the salvaging of the United States dirigible. Mrs. Henderson, who was married in December, has not seen much of her husband and hopes to see him in Victoria soon. While visiting here, Mrs. Henderson is writing a book on her travels in the Orient and Far East.

She was in Victoria several years ago when she came as a dancer on a goodwill tour from California. Her dancing is of the classical type. Due to her travels through many countries, Mrs. Henderson has stressed the national dancing of the countries.

A graduate of the University of California, she has studied dancing in California under such well-known dancers as Julio Zabaleta, Genevive Kelso and Portia Mansfield Sweet, an English teacher at Berkley. While in Japan she studied at the Hana Yagi school of dancing, which is only for foreign dancers of professional standing.

Mrs. Henderson commented on the friendliness of the people of Victoria and the natural beauties of the city.

Mother and Daughter from Colombia

Mrs. Edmundo Castello and her small daughter, Carman, are visitors at the Empress from New York. Carman, although born in Colombia, South America, has spent most of her life in Montreal and New York, where her father is consul general for Colombia.

Full-time Chairman For CBC Voted By Commons

OTTAWA (CP) — Improved radio service and more efficient handling of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation would result from the appointment of a full-time, salaried chairman for the organization, War Services Minister LaFleche said Thursday in the Commons.

He spoke before the House gave second and third reading on division to a bill providing for a full-time salaried chairman. The measure met opposition from Progressive Conservative and C.C.F. members.

Gen. LaFleche said that since 1936 the CBC has had the services of a part-time chairman who received an honorarium of $1,500 a year. In his opinion this was a fault in the set-up of the corporation, but despite the fault the CBC had made good progress.

Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House leader, and M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said they did not support the bill because they feared it would lead to a division of authority in the corporation.

Gen. LaFleche said the bill was to do away with divided authority. There had been ineffectiveness in the past due to divided authority, and the bill was aimed at rectifying the situation.

REAL HEAD

The chairman would be the real head of the corporation, and would rule on matters of policy.

"I would want to put the general manager beyond the possibility of believing even for a moment that it would be his duty to assume the functions of the real head of the corporation," he said.

Mr. Grayson said it was "disgraceful and scandalous" for the CBC to be without a general manager since last October.

(Dr. James S. Thomson, president of the University of Saskatchewan, resigned as general manager last October.)

Mr. Coldwell said his party did not believe the appointment of the chairman was the best thing that could be done for the corporation, but it was prepared to give the chairman a first class trial.

He said that if the policies of the board were to be decided by the chairman the members of the board of governors would become rubber stamps.

In the last two years the CBC employees had improved the service to the people and were performing a worthwhile function.

John Diefenubaker, P.C., Lake Centre, Sask., expressed belief the CBC should curtail its advertising activities.

A free press was essential to free speech, but the press could not remain as independent as in the past if the CBC continued to invade the revenue fields of the press.

Passage of the radio bill came after the House had disposed of a bill aimed at assuring fishermen stabilized prices for their products in the postwar years, and a measure amending the Customs and Tariff Act.

During another discussion State Secretary McLarty said that inferences drawn from the recent appointment of seven returning officers for taking the overseas service vote that a federal election was coming reasonably soon were "entirely unwarranted."

The Home Nurse

By MARY BEARD

MOTHER LETS CHILD BECOME ILL THROUGH IMPROPER FEEDING

Two-year-old Tommy had a restless night. He cried out times, and finally vomited his supper. His inexperienced mother was frantic. She had no thermometer, but she could tell by his hot, dry skin and flushed cheeks that he had a fever.

She took him out of his bed and rocked him, but that only made him hotter, and he vomited again. In desperation she called the doctor at 4 in the morning.

The doctor, who had just returned from another call and had had no sleep for many hours, said something under his breath, but told the mother to give Tommy nothing but cool boiled water and a cool sponge bath. He promised to make a visit the first thing in the morning.

Tommy had a temperature of 103 and a severe diarrhea when the doctor finally came. The doctor asked for an account of what he had eaten the day before, and this is what his mother recalled:

8 a.m.—Dry cereal, milk, egg and tomato juice.

9 a.m.—Two cookies.

9.30 a.m.—A candy sucker.

10.30 a.m.—A drink of coca-cola.

11.30 a.m.—Some popcorn given by another child.

12.30 a.m. — Lunch. Tommy would not eat anything but a piece of bread and jelly and some chocolate pudding.

2.30 p.m.—An ice cream sandwich from a passing cart.

3 p.m.—Some chocolate candy provided by the grocer as a special treat.

4.15 p.m.—Some iced lemonade from a stand conducted by neighborhood children.

5.30 p.m. — More candy when daddy came home.

6 p.m.—Dinner. But Tommy only ate some creamed new corn and green apple sauce.

7 p.m.—An ice cream cone.

8 p.m.—Glass of cold milk before he went to bed.

The doctor listened, then said bluntly: "that conglomeration of food would make a strong man sick. When we get Tommy well, we'll have to begin all over again in establishing a proper feeding schedule for this baby."

The sweep is sponsored by New Westminster Rotary Club. Average time the barrel has taken since the sweep started is 76 hours, 21 minutes, 7 and 3-5 seconds.

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

SUSPENSION the other day of Nelson Potter, St. Louis Browns pitcher for expectorating on the ball, in violation of the anti-spitball legislation, is no shocking revelation. Pitchers in every league from the lowliest amateur circuit up to the big time try a little cheating now and then. In our own ball league I have seen the chuckers sneak a little moisture on their fingers many, many times in the hope of giving the ball a little extra dipsy-doodle. There is nothing essentially evil in throwing a spitter.' It is a good, useful and clever pitch in the hands of a hurler who knows how to control it. Throwing a spitter is certainly not in the same category with slicing the cover with a razor blade concealed in the thumb of a glove.

UNFORTUNATELY the spitter was grouped with a dozen or so obviously artificial pitches about 25 years ago when the moguls went about reducing the edge pitchers enjoyed over batsmen in order to produce more base hits, fewer strike-outs, more action and bigger attendances. At that time a few pitchers did get away with near murder. They used to doctor the ball with licorice, slippery elm and chew tobacco to make it dark and less visible or polish it with talc so it would shine. Another favorite trick was to cut the cover with a razor blade, a finger ring or a belt buckle or abrase the horseside with emery paper on one side so the air would catch the rough surface and make the ball take peculiar dips and dives.

IN THE last 20 years every rule adopted by organized ball has been in favor of the batters and the cheap home runs to the detriment of the moundsmen. The trend is to make pitchers real cannon fodder. Pitchers will always attempt to sneak in a spitter. There are so many ways of evading the code that the temptation is too great to resist. In hot weather a pitcher sheds enough sweat on his forehead to dampen a ball merely by wiping his brow, against which there is no law. Also he can squeeze moisture from the cuff of his sweat shirt. A spitball doesn't always come from the mouth. Anything liquid will do. And perspiration on a ball drys too quickly for an umpire to pass judgment.

STATEMENT by Dan Ferris, secretary of the A.A.U. in the United States, that he hoped the Olympic Games would be revived in 1948, assuming the war is over in the next year or two, brought a storm of protest from London sports writers. The games produce too many "international brawls" and should not be held again for at least 25 years after the war so that tempers have a chance to cool, the Britons assert. One sports observer said flatly that he hoped Ferris' dream of again holding the games four years hence would "go pfhht."

HERE are the answers to the baseball questions in Wednesday's column: 1. Because in 1887 Cliff Carvell, St. Louis Browns left fielder, lost a ball in the sun, it fell into his shirt pocket and two runs scored while he tried to extract it; 2. Theo Breitenstein, St. Louis vs. Louisville, Oct. 4, 1891; 3. Pittsburgh, 14 in 1921, two in 1922; 4. Bill Bernhard, Cleveland, 1902, won 18, lost 5, team finished fifth.

Norman Curlers Active

To Perform in Igloos

By SYD THOMAS

TORONTO (CP)—What may well be the world's oddest curling rink will be in operation this winter at far northern Norman Wells in the Northwest Territories. There are numerous ardent curlers among the employees of the Canol project at Norman. It is believed it will be the northernmost curling rink in the world.

Ambitious backers of the plan say they intend to build three or four igloos end to end and install a heating system so the roarers can curl to their hearts' content in comfort.

NO HOTHOUSE FLOWER

Pampering racehorses isn't R. James Speers' idea of being kind to them. His Gower Mon, who scored a surprise victory over Acara in the Canadian Derby at Winnipeg, has been keeping in shape, filling in as a cow pony on his owner's ranch.

2 INCIDENTALLY

Lieut. George McNamara, son of George McNamara Sr. of hockey's dynamite twins early in the country, has been given command of an R.C.N. ship. George Sr. and his brother Howard played with Halifax Crescents in the 1911 pro loop, and later went into the contracting game.

HERE AND THERE

Possibility that baseball players might be organized into unions is being discussed, but nothing much has been done. Attempts have been made before, points out J. P. Fitzgerald in the Toronto Telegraph, but their movers have been drawn from the ranks of players and have always petered out when the owners applied the pressure . . . Johnny Greco weighed 178 pounds when he first came out of the army, and shaved off 30 pounds before his first fight. He blames his army weight on the 10 hours of sleep he used to get each night . . . Myrtle Cook, now a sport columnist on the Montreal Star, is working on Memoirs of her Olympic Games days.

Three Boxla Teams Under Suspension In Mainland Loop

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three of five teams in the British Columbia Intercity Lacrosse League are under suspension for refusing to meet Vancouver Army in scheduled games.

Suspended are New Westminster Salmonbellies, Vancouver Richmonds and Vancouver Burrards. Officials of these teams have written the B.C. Lacrosse Commission requesting that a meeting be called to clear up the situation, but the commission has not indicated what action will be taken.

The trouble stemmed from re-entry of Army into the league after it had once withdrawn. Two weeks ago Army was withdrawn by order of Pacific Command. No reason was given for the action, but last week the ban was lifted and Army's application for readmission was accepted by the commission.

The civilian teams protested because they had not been consulted in the matter, contending that Army's re-entry would upset the season's schedule.

Salmonbellies made the first move by failing to appear for last Friday night's scheduled game. Monday Burrards did not turn out, and on Wednesday Richmond did not appear. On each occasion the Army team lined up and scored into an empty net.

Next Monday Army will meet Vancouver Navy, the fifth team in the league.

Doug Bentley Will Remain in Canada

REGINA (CP)—Chances were slim today that Doug Bentley, star left winger with Chicago Black Hawks, will see action this winter in the National Hockey League, in light of an announcement by Mr. Justice P. M. Anderson.

The chairman of the Saskatchewan mobilization board said that no border crossing permits would be issued this year to men in categories eligible for military call-up who wished to play hockey in the United States.

Mr. Justice Anderson said that Bentley, granted permission to cross the border last winter because he was engaged in farming, this year would have to take such winter work as the supervisor of provincial farm labor requirements instructed.

"If he is not needed on his farm, he will have to go into essential war work."

Bentley, N.H.L. scoring champion in 1942-43, farms 360 acres at Delisle, Sask.

At Edmonton, William Carnhill, Selective Service officer, said that under no circumstances would men be permitted to go to the United States to play hockey—or for any other reason if their labor was required in Canada.

"The labor situation is acute enough here without letting available manpower get away from us," he said.

Officials of the Manitoba Mobilization Board in Winnipeg refused comment.

CHALLENGE GOLF

Walter Newcombe and Gordon Varley have challenged Harold Lineham and Bill Newcombe to a golf match, Sunday, over 18 holes at the Uplands course for the city button. The latter pair of shotmakers are the present holders of the button.

The match will start at 2. Any combination wishing to challenge for the button in the future is asked to get in touch with Fred Smith at the Uplands Golf Club.

BASEBALL FEAT

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Stan Stack, 15-year-old pitcher for Sarnia in the first game of the bantam championships of the Western Ontario Counties Baseball Association, struck out 38 London batters, and allowed one hit, in a scoreless 15-inning game. Only hit against him came in the 13th inning.

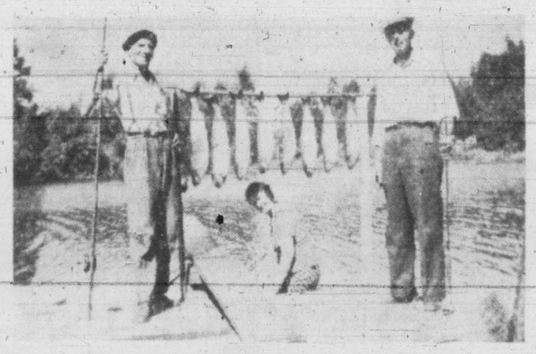
Nice Salmon Catch



Harry Riley, left, and E. Ensley are seen above with eight spring salmon they landed the other evening at Brentwood, fishing in the waters off Stacey's. The fish were caught between 6 and 8 in the evening and the two anglers report there are a lot more still in Saanich Arm.

Army Ties Fastball Playoff

Deciding Tilt Tonight

Staging a real Frank Merriwell finish to win the game in the last of the ninth, Army nosed out R.C.A.F 5 to 4 in Thursday night's senior men's fastball battle. Army triumph tied the semifinal series at one win apiece and forced a third and deciding tilt tonight at Upper Central Park, starting at 6.30.

Winner of tonight's game will go up against Tommy Tuckers, winners of the other semifinal playoff from Douglas Tire, in the best of three final, scheduled to open either Monday or Tuesday night.

Last night's finish was a thriller-diller. Army went in to bat two runs down and a beaten team in the opinion of the majority. With one out, Grunder lifted a short fly in back of first base and went all the way around the bags when Hoag threw the ball into left field trying to cut off the runner at second. Kennedy followed with a sharp single into centre. Sutherland's smash bounced off pitcher Crimble's leg and when third baseman Todd tried to nip Kennedy at second his throw hit the runner leaving Kennedy on third and Sutherland on second. Prior grounded to Swerhone at short and his high throw to first allowed both runners to score and the ball game was over.

The clubs played scoreless ball for four innings, with each team scoring once in the fifth. Flyers took a two-run lead in the sixth with the Army getting one back in the seventh. Flyers regained their two-run edge in the first half of the ninth.

Sammy Kennedy, on the mound for the Army and Crimble each hurled nine-hit ball. Flyers were charged with five errors and Army two.

Short score follows:

	R.	H.	E.
R.C.A.F.	4	9	5
Army	5	9	2

Batteries: Crimble and Greenberg; Kennedy and Grunle.

In a Junior League game the Boilermakers took a close 9 to 8 win from the Hustlers, while K.V.'s won by default from the Boilermakers in the juvenile section.

Operation Would Not Have Saved Franklin

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Dr. Harrison S. Martland, chief medical examiner of Essex County, said Thursday an autopsy showed that the death of Lem Franklin, 28-year-old Chicago negro heavyweight boxer, resulted from "a type of injury where surgery offered no hope."

Franklin died earlier in the day in city hospital where he had been under treatment from injuries received on July 24 when he was knocked out by Larry Lane, Trenton negro, in the ninth round of their scheduled 10-round main event at Meadowbrook Bowl.

The medical examiner asserted that Franklin had been struck in the middle of the forehead and multiple concussion hemorrhages of the brain resulted, but, he added, it could not be determined whether the injury was caused by a blow or by the subsequent fall.

Usually, Martland said, subdural clots form and an operation may save the injured person's life.

Blind Men Prove Skilful Oarsmen

REGINA (CP) — Two Regina men have proved that rowing is one of the things blind persons can do well.

They are Robert Beath, director of the National Institute for the Blind here, and Joe Bembridge, who runs a concession stand at a hospital. Three times a week they work out with a crew at the Regina Boat Club, with experienced oarsmen at bow and stern positions.

Alan Kerr, president of the club, says launching the shell was a problem for Beath and Bembridge at first, but now they do it skilfully. And no longer do they require the stroke to call time to catch the rhythm—the four oars move in perfect unison.

Kerr hopes to interest other persons in the sport and eventually to train a complete crew for competition with other blind oarsmen.

Maltzberger Sets Brilliant Pace For Relief Hurler

NEW YORK (CP)—If Gordy Maltzberger continues to save games for the Chicago White Sox hurlers at the rate to which they have become accustomed, the 29-year-old righthander will become the first relief hurler to win the American League pitching crown on a loss-won basis.

With a 10 and 3 win record for the fifth-place Sox, Maltz may eclipse Wilcey Moore's sensational 1927 spurt when he posted a 19 and 7 season for Miller Huggins' world champion Yankees. Waite Hoyt of the Yanks won 22 and lost 7 that year, but Moore topped the loop in low earned-run average with 2.28 while pitching only six complete games.

Jimmy Dykes' No. 1 fireman hasn't started a single game, but has appeared in 39, walking only 13 men and giving only 62 hits in 81⅔ innings. With the Sox pitching staff suffering from seven-inning miseries, Maltzberger has a chance to wipe out the American League record set by Ed Walsh of the same Chicago club who appeared in 66 contests back in 1908.

Ace Adams' modern major league mark of 70 is not beyond the reach of the Texan.

Of the three losses entered against Maltzberger's record, all have been suffered in extra-inning games. Boston beat him in the 12th, 3 to 2, back on May 19, and again on July 18, 4 to 2, in 11 frames. Philadelphia did the trick in the 12th, 2 to 1, last Tuesday.

Eagles Face Flyers In Important Game

It will be definitely a case of do or die for the Eagles' ball team tonight against the R.C.A.F. Flyers at the Athletic Park, starting at 6.30.

To retain any chance of making the championship playoffs the lodgemen have to check in with a victory. A win for the Flyers will cinch fourth place for them in the league standings.

Bill Surphlis, handyman of the airmen, is expected to take the pitching mound, while Wilf Shouldice or Bobby Prior will work for the lodgemen.

Tonight will be "Eagles' Night" with their drum and bugle corps scheduled to appear.

Tomorrow afternoon the V.M.D. will battle the Navy, starting at 2.30, with the Army and Eagles billed for the night game at 6.30.

Penhold Captures Cricket Fixture

Visiting R.A.F. cricketers from Penhold, Alta., defeated an R.A.F. side from Comox, 105 to 63, in a match played at Beacon Hill, Thursday.

Roberts, with 29 not out, and Randall with 27, were top batsmen for Penhold. Cazdenish, who put on 20 for Comox before suffering a wrenched knee and retiring, was their number one man at the wickets. Richardson contributed 13 and Merritt 11.

Meadows and Randall handled the bowling chores for Penhold, the former having the fine average of five wickets for 30 runs. Mowbray was the best for Comox with seven for 20.

Kelowna Regatta

Salmon, Hanson Champs

KELOWNA (CP)—Barbara Hunt and Doris Geldard, both of Toronto, starred at the second day of the 38th international regatta here Thursday, with Miss Geldard winning her first distance race and Miss Hunt swimming off with two events, one of them a British Columbia championship.

Doris, the 16-year-old mermaid who won top honors at the recent Canadian championship meet in Vancouver, won the half-mile junior girls' B.C. championship. Barbara took first honors in the 200-yard freestyle women's open B.C. championship event and in the 50-yard freestyle women's open.

Shirley Muir of Vancouver nosed out Winnipeg's Catherine Kerr for the women's aggregate with 82 points to Miss Kerr's 74.

Archie McKinnon's Flying "Y" contenders from Victoria captured two more British Columbia titles, when Peter Salmon headed the pack in the boys' 50-yard breaststroke and Wade Hanson was the winner of the junior boys' half mile. The Victorians also took several seconds and thirds.

The record crowd's longest and loudest applause was reserved for diving exhibitions by Al Patnik of Seattle and George Athans of Vancouver, Rivalling the popularity of the two divers was Kelowna's Gordon Finch who staged a breath-taking exhibition of water skiing.

No 20 C.I.B.T.C., Brantford, Ont., walked off with the honors in the men's events with L.-Cpl. John Dean winning the men's aggregate and the team winning the cup for servicemen entries.

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, officer commanding, Pacific Command, dedicated the Kelowna honor roll containing the names of more than 1,500 men and women from this area in the Dominion's armed forces. Lieutenant-General W. C. Woodward assisted at the ceremony.

Chicago Cubs Move Into First Division

Cholly Grimm's banjo strummed a merry tune today as the Chicago Cubs inhaled rarefied first-division air after spending the first three months of the season in and out of the National League cellar.

The Bruins headed home via Pittsburgh with a nine-game winning streak and a record of 12 victories in 17 eastern starts. Since June 25, when Grimm's crew was mired in last place by 4½ lengths, Chicago took 26 of 38 games to pull past all the eastern entries. For the first time this season, the four western clubs hogged the first-division spots.

Bill Nicholson stepped up his home-run production from its usual sub-par start and clouted Nos. 22 and 23 yesterday as the Cubs humbled Brooklyn twice 6 to 2 and 7 to 1. Nicholson moved past Mel Ott of the New York Giants, in the home run derby and passed the Card's Ray Sanders to take the R.B.I. lead with 75.

Bob Chipman, acquired from Brooklyn for Ed Stanky June 7, topped the club with an 11 and 4 victory record, three against his old Dodger mates. Bill Fleming won six of his last seven and Hank Wyse six of his last eight starts, while Claude Passeau regained some of his old form to hurl nine complete games in his last 10 outings. Paul Derringer became a relief hurler in mid-June after failing as a starter and made 12 helpful appearances.

Chipman needed help from Derringer yesterday to grab a 6 to 2 nod in the first game over Curt Davis, but Passeau went all the way, scattering 10 hits, to decision Tom Warren in a 7 to 1 nightcap. Nicholson with five for eight and Cavarretta with five for nine boosted their averages to an even .300.

St. Louis humbled Pittsburgh 15 to 2 with Teddy Wilks winning his seventh straight and his 10th victory to one loss. Dandy Lit-whiler batted in six runs with four hits, including a three-run homer.

Chicago's White Sox went into a fifth-place tie with Detroit in the American League by downing Cleveland twice 3 to 2 and 5 to 1. Bill Dietrich nosed out Al Smith in the opener with the help of Johnny Dickshot's triple and Orval Grove got the nod over Chief Reynolds in the second.

COAST LEAGUE

Seattle and Portland each lost ground in the Coast League pennant chase last night, the Rainiers bowing to Oakland 5 to 3, and the Rose City nine dropping a 9 to 1 decision to Los Angeles.

Rex Adams limited the Beavers to four hits, while the Angels were collecting nine, including Rip Russell's three-run homer, his second in two days. Portland contributed four errors to the cause, and dropped into tie with Sacramento for fifth place.

Al Wright, Oakland second baseman, polled out two doubles to lead his teams 11-hit attack, while Al Libke, Seattle first sacker, drove in all of Seattle's runs with three hits, including one homer. The loss dropped Seattle into seventh place.

San Diego, limited to three hits by Ronnie Smith, turned back Hollywood 1 to 0 as Rex Cecil posted his 18th win. The Padres got a man on with an infield hit in the fourth and scored him on a stolen base, an infield out and a wild throw by shortstop Todd Davis.

Pte. Slim Rennison Impresses Reporter

LONDON (CP)—Canadian lumberjacks of the Canadian Forestry Corps have landed in France. One English reporter who covered the embarkation went "overboard" in describing these "big bronzed husky men who for the last three years have been employed in forestry work in the woods of the Scottish Highlands."

He wrote in a dispatch to his London paper: "Among these tough and brawny lads I picked out the toughest and brawniest and certainly the tallest—Pte. Slim Rennison from Vancouver Island, who stands six feet four inches in his outside boots."

May Delay R.C.A.F. Recruiting After Oct. 1

Possibility the halt in recruiting for the R.C.A.F. may extend beyond Oct. 1, unofficial date for resumption of recruiting, is seen here by Air Marshal Robert Leckie, C.B., D.S.O., D.F.C., chief of the air staff, who spent Thursday at the Pat Bay air station.

"Our quotas for this year both in air and ground crews are complete. Resumption of recruiting will depend entirely on circumstances at that time," he declared.

Losses in air warfare had been far less than was anticipated.

Canadian airmen may train in Canada for the Indian and Burmese war theatres, according to the air marshal.

A full medical mission and a full air mission accompanied Air Vice-Marshal L. F. Stevenson, C.B., former air officer commanding Western Air Command, to the east recently, Air Marshal Leckie revealed.

"All I can say at this time is that they are to make a thorough study of living conidtions, fighting conditions and the setup for air operations. They will report back to Ottawa so that if we are to go to that theatre we will be in complete readiness," he said.

Greater Victoria Proposal Would Be Further Studied

A suggestion that a commission be appointed and financed by the four municipalities of Greater Victoria to study all the aspects of co-operation and possible amalgamation was made to the Victoria Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon by Harold M. Diggon, reporting for the Greater Victoria committee of the Chamber.

Mr. Diggon expressed satisfaction at the recent moves that have been made to bring about more co-operation between the various municipalities, and included the hope that Saanich would come into any co-operative ventures that might be made.

Reeve L. W. Woodhouse of Oak Bay reported on the meeting that was held with the Premier, the Mayor of Victoria and the reeves of Esquimalt and Oak Bay.

He explained that Mayor McGavin of Victoria spoke first, as senior municipal official, and asked that the findings of a commission on such matters as debt arrangement, water mains, fire protection, schools, and other problems that amalgamation or co-operation would bring about, be appointed and its findings be made mandatory. This, Mr. Woodhouse said, he considered to be the wrong approach. He approved of the idea of a commission but not of making its findings mandatory until such time as the people of all municipalities should be thoroughly informed on how amalgamation would affect them in every detail.

TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE

Mr. Diggon agreed with Mr. Woodhouse, and pointed out the difficulties experienced by a Chamber of Commerce committee that had little funds at its disposal and no power to commandeer information from the various municipalities or other sources. He felt a joint municipal commission, receiving technical assistance from the provincial government could make greater headway with the problem.

Alderman Archie Wills outlined some of the previous attempts that have been made to find a common basis for co-operation or amalgamation of the four municipalities. He suggested that a Chamber of Commerce committee could, in all probability, get co-operation from the municipalities in obtaining information. He was anxious to carry on further educational programs to inform the people what such co-operation would mean and get them interested.

Mr. Diggon said that his committee would continue to carry on its activities, and no action was taken by the directors other than to receive his report.

Mayhew Urges Canada Keep Merchant Vessels

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada expects to keep the 300 cargo ships she now owns in merchant marine service after the war, but the policy of whether they will be government-operated or operated by private companies has not been determined, Transport Minister Michaud told the Commons Thursday.

Mr. Michaud spoke after R. W. Mayhew, L., Victoria, and Clarence Gillis, C.C.F., Cape Breton South, had urged the operation of an expanded merchant marine service after the war.

The minister said Canada would come out of the war with 10 times the number of merchant ships she had before the war, but with all of them in operation employment could only be provided for some 15,000 men.

Mr. Mayhew, in urging a merchant fleet, said that while Canada would have to share the movement of merchandise with other countries, the United Kingdom and European countries would require large quantities of Canadian goods.

The 5,000,000 or more homes to be built in the United Kingdom—a house every 20 seconds for 10 years—would require vast supplies of lumber and orders had already been placed in Canada for 2,000,000,000 feet in the next two years. It would require 300 ships to carry this lumber and another 250 would be needed for wheat shipments. Canada should have at least 500 10,000-ton ships, Mr. Mayhew suggested.

U.S. Service Rejectee Fights for Jail Term

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Determined to win his fight to break into jail, a sandy-haired 4-F war worker told federal officers here he had committed a long list of offences because he preferred a prison sentence to public curiosity.

Rejected by every branch of the armed services, Claude Chancey Jr., 23, Selman, Okla., said he had done his best to be arrested—and finally was — although he found it a bit difficult.

Chancey said: "I'd rather be in the penitentiary than have folks wonder why I wasn't in uniform."

The impatient man was disappointed when a U.S. commissioner held him to the October grand jury on a Dyer Act charge and asked: "Can't the judge dispose of me sooner than that."

Chancey said he had stolen a car in Nashville, Tenn., and transported it into Kentuciky, where he whizzed through county after county, hoping to be arrested; bought gasoline without coupons but wasn't reported, drove up and down one-way streets and ran through red lights for two hours with no results. He was arrested after he had made a U-turn in front of a police car in downtown Louisville.

Picnic Concludes Church School

Summer School, held at the Church of the Assumption, West Saanich Road, concluded on Sunday with a picnic, attended by 75.

Fifteen children attended the Summer School, which lasted a week, and the program of religious studies included the modern feature of work sheets, singing lessons and short religious services. Sisters of the Immaculate Heart of Mary acted as teachers, and Father J. J. Cyr and Father X. Lauzon were in charge of the religious services.

After church service Sunday, at which Father Cyr officiated at a solemn high mass, the afternoon was spent at the picnic, with bathing, novelty races and contests being the feature attractions. Others taking part in the church service were: Father J. Camirand, S.M.M., principal of the Kuper Island residential school; Father H. Seguin, missionary to the Cowichan Indians; Benny Paul, Pierre Archambault, Donald Shepard and Richard Slevin. The choir was under the direction of Father Lauzon and Sister Elisabeth Ann at the organ sang the Mass of the Angels.

Apples and Corn Brighten Markets

Shades of fall hung over the marketplace today, with Fraser Valley and locally-grown corn arriving, and apple supplies, both local and Okanagan, becoming more plentiful daily.

Quality of the corn is good, but price is fairly high.

Produce from the Okanagan is taking the spotlight this week with first shipments of cantaloupes and peaches arriving down wholesale row, Thursday, and shipments expected regularly from now on. Blackberries are available.

High on the list of popular imported fruits were the first lot of J. H. Hale peaches, which came in Thursday from California. California oranges arriving here are still either large or small, with no in-between sizes in the shipments, the wholesaler said. A carload of watermelons will arrive Saturday.

Dies Few Days After Returning Home

With muffled drums and reversed arms, troops accompanied the guncarriage bearing the body of 45-year-old Sapper Martin John MacDonald to its final resting place, through Victoria, to the Military Cemetery, Esquimalt, Thursday afternoon.

After four years' service overseas in England, Sapper MacDonald had been sent back aboard a hospital ship seriously ill. He died a few days after his arrival home.

His wife, Joan, and eight-year-old daughter, Leila, had looked forward to his homecoming, but not until the day before he arrived in Vancouver did they know how seriously ill he was.

Little Leila saw her father once, in Shaughnessy Hospital. Mrs. MacDonald stayed with her husband from Thursday, July 27, until he died Monday, July 31.

A volley of rifles cracked, and a bugle blew the "Last Post," as, with full military honors, Sapper MacDonald was lowered into the grave. In the background, wife and daughter watched.

$2,000,000 Advertising Plan For Pacific Northwest After War

A plan to raise between $1,600,000 and $2,000,000 for the purpose of advertising tourist attractions and industrial possibilities of the Pacific northwest area was mooted by the Seattle Chamber of Commerce in a letter that was considered by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon.

It was suggested by the Seattle chamber that the Pacific Northwest Trade Association could possibly administer the fund, which should be raised immediately and impounded until after the war, when the advertising campaign could be started.

Herbert Stevens, in discussion of the proposal, said the Evergreen Playground Association was formed some 20 years ago for the purpose of advertising tourist attractions in the area. He questioned if this association could not be expanded to carry on the proposed new campaign, or if it was the idea of the Seattle chamber to set up a new organization.

It was pointed out that since its inception the Evergreen Playground Association has spent $546,000 in advertising the area, to which Victoria contributed $35,000. Prior to the war the association spent approximately $40,000 a year, but since the war it has averaged only $3,000 a year in advertising.

The secretary was instructed to write and obtain further information as to how the fund would be administered and by whom.

Heavy 'Chilco' Salmon Run Nets Fishermen Big Money

By DICK FREEMAN

Commercial fishermen here speak conservatively in comparing salmon catches in this area with the reported phenomenal catches being made off Fraser River Sandheads.

The big run is not being duplicated here, they say.

Gillnetters fishing off the mouth of the Fraser appear to be enjoying an unprecedented fish harvest with mainland estimates putting Wednesday's sockeye catch at 125,600 or approximately 10,000 cases of salmon.

One gillnetter plying his trade off the Fraser is said to have realized $100 an hour for 14 hours fishing.

The fishermen's bonanza now on in adjacent waters is known as the "Chilco Run," the fish having been spawned four years ago in the Chilco area.

Sooke commercial fishermen said today the fish are not running off Victoria in such large numbers as they are reported to be off the Fraser mouth, reason given is that they are probably coming in from the Pacific by way of Johnstone Strait, whereas ordinarily they should come in through the Straits of Juan de Fuca.

SEEDING GOOD

Men in the business quoted a recent statement by Maj. J. A. Motherwell, supervisor of fisheries for B.C., in which he said seeding was good and that a good Chilco run was expected this year.

The volume of fish this year, it is stated, is an attestation to the conservation policies of the federal fisheries department, and to the activities of the International Pacific Sockeye Commission, as the run is much better than it was four years ago.

When the big run of Adams River fish was on two years ago Canadian seiners operating off the mouth of the Fraser River were averaging 20,000 fish per set. This year, Canadians are barred from using purse seines, are using only gillnets.

Some of the gillnetters now operating, it was indicated today, are taking 500 to a boat, but the average is said to be less than 100 per boat.

The fishermen are paid from 13½ to 15½ cents per pound or approximately $1 a fish by the cannery operators.

Hollywood Crews Arrive for Movie, Unload Flat Cars

Crews from Hollywood commenced converging on Victoria today to start work Monday on outdoor scenes for "Son of Lassie," an M-G-M production in full technicolor.

More than 20 workers arrived today and started unloading props and baggage from flat cars which came down from Ladysmith over the E. and N. Another 35 workers will arrive tomorrow.

A fleet of trucks moved the properties from the Russell Street yards of the E. & N. They arrived in two enormous baggage cars of the Union Pacific. One had end doors, an unusual feature.

A broken-down log cabin and a rowboat, already used for the picture in Hollywood, were in the cars. There were Kleig lights and black curtains, directors' chairs.

The company even brought along special California spring water for the dogs. A chance cannot be taken on local water upsetting the animals and holding up production.

S. Sylvan Simon, director for the picture, returned by air today from Banff and conferred with Hermann Webber, assistant director, who has spent the last week picking locations.

"I think we've got everything we want now," Mr. Webber said today, as he prepared to talk business with Mr. Simon over the luncheon table at the Empress Hotel.

The collie dog, which will play the canine leading role in the picture, is expected here tomorrow and will be quartered at an apartment-hotel in charge of a special dog master.

Stars of the picture, Peter Lawford, who was featured in "White Cliffs of Dover," Nigel Bruce, whose daughter is an airwoman at Patricia Bay; June Lockhart and Donald Crisp are also expected here tomorrow, coming via Vancouver.

Selections of extras will commence over the week-end, Mr. Webber said today.

Today's arrivals at the Empress included Parry O'Brien, gaffer; Jasper Woltz, soundman, and Ray Johnson, cameraman.

To Bring Harvesters From Dakotas

OTTAWA (CP)—Labor Minister Mitchell said today in the Commons that he is "confident we will get the crop off in western Canada this year."

He was answering a question about harvest help from E. E. Perley, P.C., Qu'Appelle, Sask.

A movement of farm workers from eastern Canada and the Dakotas was planned. The government was paying return railway fare for harvest workers moving from both areas.

Town Topics

A sack of mail was found by city police on the corner of Johnson and Broad Streets Thursday evening and returned to the Post Office.

J. T. Hughes, Lime Bay, reported theft of his galvanized-iron canoe and two paddles from his beach shack to city police. They had been missing since Tuesday, he said.

On his way to Victoria aboard Ss. Princess Charlotte for a holiday, accompanied by his wife, Daniel Morgan, 58-year-old Vancouver civic employee, collapsed and died Thursday afternoon, city police were advised by a wireless message from the ship.

"World of Plenty," a film in which the need for a food plan, based on requirements of all peoples of the world was stressed, was shown by C. W. Marshall of the National Film Board at the Lions Club luncheon, Thursday, in Spencer's dining-room.

Three motorists paid fines totaling $35 in Saanich police court Thursday afternoon for motoring offences. A fourth driver paid a fine of $10 for running over a fire hose, and a farmer was fined $10 for allowing his cattle to roam at large.

Application of the School Board Employees' Association for a 10 per cent salary increase was forwarded by board chairman Trustee Austin Curtis to the City Council today. The application noted that increase had been given to police and fire departments which enjoy schedules.

Major A. W. Martin, commanding officer of Moncton, New Brunswick, Corps of the Salvation Army, is visiting relatives in the city. Before leaving for the Toronto Training College in 1911, he was a bandsman in the local corps. Major Martin is a guest of his brother, Sergeant-Major Stanley Martin of the Victoria West Corps. His father and sister also reside in Victoria. He will speak at the morning and evening meetings on Sunday at the Catherine Street Hall.

Elk Lake Possible Small Airport Site

The city's Elk Lake property has definite possibilities as a site for a municipal airport catering to small plane business, according to statements by W. S. Lawson, district inspector, Western Airways, Department of Transport, to Ald. B. J. Gadsden.

Ald. Gadsden, who secured City Council permission to seek a survey of the area, reported today he had spent Thursday afternoon with Mr. Lawson and the city engineer, G. M. Irwin, studying the location.

"Mr. Lawson said there was a possibility an airport could be placed there and could be licensed if built according to specifications," Ald. Gadsden said.

King's Jap Policy Endorses Demands Of City Members

Premier John Hart and members of his cabinet would not comment today on Prime Minister King's Japanese policy until they had read the full text of the announcement.

Both Liberal and Conservative associations in British Columbia have passed resolutions asking that all Japanese, whether born in Canada or not, be sent to Japan after the war and that no more Japanese be allowed to settle in Canada.

Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Liberal-Coalition member for Victoria, said she was delighted to hear of Prime Minister King's declaration.

"It is in line with the attitude that I have consistently taken in the Legislature," she said. "Despite the fact the C.C.F. opposition declared I was un-Christian in wanting the Japanese deported after the war, I am of the same opinion still. There is no place for Japanese in Canada. They cannot be trusted and have, by their barbarity, proved such to be the case."

W. T. Straith, K.C., also a Liberal-Coalition member for Victoria, said: "I am pleased to hear it. The trouble has been due to the fact that we ever let them in at all. I have advocated in the House that Japanese who could not be repatriated should be distributed and not be allowed to concentrate in one locality. I am pleased to see the Prime Minister has included this in his policy."

L. W. Westendale, Grand Factor of the Native Sons of British Columbia, said: "Announced policy on the part of the Dominion government to exclude Japanese is welcome news. Such a commitment on the part of the government goes a long way towards achieving the aims that the Native Sons of B.C. have been striving for during the last 15 years."

Former Premier T. D. Pattullo said: "It constitutes a very sensible policy that should meet the requirements of British Columbia. It provides for handling fairly and justly the situation in respect to Japanese who are Canadian citizens. This is a very difficult problem."

817 Jobs Unfilled

The labor situation in Victoria with regard to essential jobs for men remains unchanged this week with 817 vacancies still listed at Selective Service here, it was revealed by W. G. Stone, supervisor for male employment.

So far no men have arrived here from Vancouver as a result of shipyard lay-offs there, C. A. Mudge, manager of Selective Service, said, although the local office has hopes of being able to obtain some men to fill the vacancies for essential employment.

Vancouver sources reveal that of the 400 men being laid off in North Vancouver today, approximately 200 are students hired for the summer, and another 57 are deferred men. This means that there will only be approximately 143 of this group eligible for possible employment in Victoria, and there is no indication, as yet, as to how many may be sent.

On Aug. 11 the Burrard south yard in Vancouver will be reducing its employee strength by 250, it is reported from Vancouver. Of these 50 are students and 63 are on deferment.

During the past week 147 men were placed in employment by the local Selective Service office, Mr. Stone reported, and he has on hand 200 men who are seeking employment. However, he pointed out, that the great majority of these men are either young high schoolboys, old men, or partially disabled men who are not fit to do any of the heavier work.

The demand for clearance orders remains approximately the same as last week, well above the 3,000 mark.

Myitkyina Falls To Allied Forces

SOUTHEAST ASIA COMMAND HEADQUARTERS, Kandy, Ceylon (AP) — British, U.S. and Chinese forces have captured Myitkyina, major Japanese base in northern Burma, after a bitter and bloody siege that began last May 17, it was announced today.

At least 3,000 Japanese were slain there during the 2½ months of fighting. The last remnants of the garrison either were killed or captured in the final mop-up of this largest city in northern Burma.

The victory gave the Allies control of two Myitkyina airfields and an important road and rail junction on the Upper Irrawaddy River for a prospective link-up with Chinese forces in Yunnan to the east, in a combined effort to open a land route to China.

Mrs. A. J. Lawrence, 1223 Princess Street, was fined $25 by J. P. George McGregor in city police court today for dangerous driving.

City Political Groups Stirring for Election

By JAMES K. NESBIT

With Dominion election talk in the air across Canada, Greater Victoria political parties are lining up their forces for the fight, expected in many quarters before November.

Liberals, with R. W. Mayhew, M.P. for Victoria since 1937, expected to run again, are in the best position of any of the parties. They have a universally esteemed man, who has done a great deal for Victoria since he went to the House of Commons nearly seven years ago.

It is no secret that Mr. Mayhew desires to retire from public life, attend to his growing business here and enjoy some leisure with his family. But, according to the demands of his friends and supporters, who point out to him that it is in the interests of Victoria that he sit again at Ottawa, he is expected to allow his name to once more go before the public.

ORGANIZER COMING

H. W. Davey, president of Victoria Liberal Association, at present is out of the city. On his return he will call a meeting of the association to formulate plans for the election. J. E. McCormack, recently named B.C. federal Liberal organizer is expected in the city shortly.

Progressive Conservatives are awaiting the arrival in Victoria of their national leader, John Bracken, before starting their campaign plans. Gordon Cameron, president of the Victoria Conservatives, said his executive would meet next Monday to make plans for Mr. Bracken's visit and for the Dominion election. Chief worry of the Conservatives here is choosing a strong candidate. Alderman D. D. McTavish, Brig. J. Sutherland Brown and Waldo Skillings are being unofficially mentioned to go before a nominating convention. Don Applegarth, Tory organizer for B.C. who recently replaced Russell Walker, is expected here at the time of Mr. Bracken's visit.

C.C.F. PLANS

Best organized of the political parties so far is the C.C.F., who some weeks ago chose FO. Murray Bryce as their candidate. FO. Bryce is on R.C.A.F. duty at Fort Nelson, on the Alaska Highway, but is due here August 13-26 to meet C.C.F. supporters and address a public meeting. The C.C.F. will meet in Woodsworth Hall next Monday evening to elect a campaign manager and campaign committees. For a month prior to the election FO. Bryce will have to lead the C.C.F. campaign in Victoria.

C. Grant MacNeil, C.C.F. member of the B.C. House for Vancouver-Burrard, is now in Victoria organizing C.C.F. forces for the election.

"As far as we are concerned, the campaign is now on—it makes no difference to us what the actual date of the election may be," he said.

Labor-Progressives here nominated Garry Culhane as their candidate early in June. Mr. Culhane, since that time, has transferred his residence to Vancouver, where he is secretary-treasurer of the Shipyard General Workers' Federation of British Columbia. He will have time, however, to come to Victoria to campaign. Robert Kerr of Victoria is his campaign manager.

Maj. A. H. Jukes, one of the leaders of the Social Credit here, would give no statement to the press today, when asked if his group plans to take part in the Greater Victoria campaign.

CHAMBERS TO RUN

Maj. Chambers at present is serving with the Canadian army overseas, probably in France. He went through the Sicilian campaign and into Italy, returning to Canada last winter and sitting several days in the House of Commons before returning to England.

There were recent reports that Maj. Chambers intended to quit the political field. His friends are of the opinion he should run again and thus allow his experience to be used in discussion of peacetime pursuits in the House of Commons. Since Maj. Chambers enlisted, Mr. Mayhew has been attending to the public business of Nanaimo constituents.

Vancouver Island has three seats in the House of Commons. In addition to Victoria and Nanaimo there is Comox-Alberni, for long held by A. W. Neil, Independent. He has announced he will not run again. Nigel Morgan, who has run as a C.C.F. candidate in Victoria, will be Labor-Progressive standard bearer in Comox-Alberni.

Germans May Quit France Before This Season Ends

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A general German withdrawal from France before the end of the present fighting season is expected by some military authorities here.

The political impact in Germany of so vast a retreat within the next two months or so, coupled with the enormous backward marches on the eastern front, may be enough to force the enemy's final surrender or the collapse of his will to resist.

But the possibility is not entirely discounted in informed quarters that the Germans may try one last stand in the west—provided eastern front developments permit—if they can get back into their inner fortress protected by the old Maginot and Siegfried Lines.

NOW OFF BALANCE

The enemy must still hope, since it is the only hope remaining to him, to re-establish a war of position at some point. But his troops have been thrown so far off balance in France that they almost certainly will not be able to stop short of the French frontier.

This point, accepted by many military men here, should become further evident as the Allied staff develops its strategy aimed at destroying Hitler's western armies. This is expected to blossom swiftly into new blows and more advances as the imminent conquest of Brittany adds the facilities of Brest and St. Nazaire to those of the crippled port of Cherbourg.

With three such ports the Allied armies in France may be supplied not only from Britain but also directly from the United States.

Oilman Trying to Retire Gracefully

Allan Jackson, well-known oilman of Chicago, for many years vice-president of Standard Oil of Indiana, is holidaying at the Empress with Mrs. Jackson.

"I'm trying to retire gracefully," said Mr. Jackson, explaining his retirement from the vice-presidency some three years ago after 47 years with the company.

"I think you must have had the wrong Jackson in mind," he said good-humoredly. "I'm not a politician. I don't think anything I could say would be of interest to the public."

Army Takes Over In Philadelphia; Strife Threatens

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Bands of strikers appeared at subway and elevated terminals today and threatened violence to a comparatively few operators heading an army attempt to halt Philadelphia's three-day transportation tie-up.

Only 12 elevated trains, seven subway trains and the trolleys on one route had operated up to 8 a.m., three hours after the army's deadline for resumption of service under an order from President Roosevelt seizing the lines in the name of the government.

Clashes between white men and negroes—with one shooting—broke out again during the early morning. The stoppage began in protest against the transportation company's upgrading of negroes to operating jobs.

HALT REPAIR CREW

Five truckloads of strikers stopped a Philadelphia Transportation Company emergency repair wagon in a residential street and warned the crew to answer no calls.

"Don't if you know what's good for you," they said.

After seven trains had pulled out of the 69th Street elevated terminal, a band of strikers appeared on the platform and attempted to dissuade other crews from making their runs. Only one crew walked out again.

Windows were smashed during the night in a flare-up of race disorder which already had sent 14 persons to hospitals.

At 8.30 a.m., heavy details of police were dispatched to the Hunting Park station of the Broad Street subway on a report of a "bad disturbance" there.

Policemen reported the station was "all quiet" when they arrived, but said they were told strikers had been attempting to dissuade residents from boarding the occasional train.

Meanwhile hundreds of thousands of Philadelphians again hitch-hiked, walked or used make-shift transportation provided by employers, to get to their jobs.

Dogs Poisoned

City police received a report Thursday from Mrs. A. Altham, 608 Harbinger Avenue, that her collie dog had been poisoned on Wednesday. She also reported poisoning of a dog owned by Mrs. W. A. Rhodes, 550 Harbinger Avenue, on Wednesday night. Cause of death was reported as strychnine poisoning.

ATLAS THEATRE

Little Margaret O'Brien, who brought a lump to the throats of millions of moviegoers in "Journey for Margaret" and "You, John Jones," is now playing in her first starring role. This time a comedy tailor-made to her talents, "Lost Angel." The M-G-M film is now showing at the Atlas Theatre.

Margaret appears as a child prodigy reared scientifically by a group of professors. She is a mental marvel but has never known the true joy and tenderness of childhood. Then James Craig, playing a breezy newspaper reporter, appears on the scene and captivates her with a promise to show her magic. Not only does he capture her imagination but her heart as well.

London Times Starts Air Mail Edition

LONDON (CP)—The Times of London has announced that beginning today it would publish an "air edition" on India paper. It will be same size but only half the weight of the regular edition. Arrangements have been made for a regular supply to be flown to Canada and the United States, reaching the eastern seaboard within two days.

Wheat Policy Reversed

WASHINGTON (CP) — Commenting on a reported expansion of 6,400,000 acres in Canada's 1944 wheat acreage in the three prairie provinces, the U.S. agricultural department says this is a "reversal" of the Dominion's wheat policy thus far during the war. A statement prepared by the department's foreign agriculture relations branch places the seeding in the three prairie provinces at 23,100,000 acres compared with 16,700,000 last year.

Where To Go Tonight

ATLAS — Margaret O'Brien in "Lost Angel."
CADET — "We Dine at Dawn," starring Eric Portman.
CAPITOL—"Pin Up Girl," starring Betty Grable.
DOMINION — "The Sullivans," starring Anne Baxter and Thomas Mitchell.
OAK BAY-PLAZA — Dick Powell and Linda Darnell in "It Happened Tomorrow."
RIO—Ritz Bros. and Jane Frazee in "Hi'ya Chum."
YORK—Gene Tierney and Don Ameche in "Heaven Can Wait."

Chas. Boyer Star Of 'Hari Kiri'

Charles Boyer at his dramatic best and Merle Oberon at her loveliest are starred in the film "Hara Kiri," a story of Oriental intrigue and romance, which is coming Monday to the York Theatre.

American screen fans first saw Miss Oberon as the ill-fated Anne Boleyn in Korda's "Private Life of Henry VIII." Her classic beauty immediately engaged the interest of Hollywood, and she came to this country. She appeared in a series of notable dramatic hits, including the prize-winning "Wuthering Heights," "That Uncertain Feeling," "Lydia", and "Affectionately Yours."

YORK THEATRE

"Heaven Can Wait," currently showing at the York Theatre, is a gay romantic comedy of the naughty, nifty nineties. Produced and directed by Ernest Lubitsch for 20th Century-Fox, the technicolor story of the gay nineties puts Gene Tierney and Don Ameche in the featured roles aided by a host of supporting players.

Included in the outstanding cast are Charles Coburn, Marjorie Main, Laird Cregar, Spring Byington, Allyn Joslyn, Eugene Pallette and many, many, more.

RIO THEATRE

Laughter and music are said to spice the fast action of Universal's new Ritz Brothers comedy tunefilm, "Hi'ya Chum," currently at the Rio Theatre. Jane Frazee, Robert Paige and June Clyde are the popular featured players in the new picture.

Edmund L. Hartmann wrote the original screen play announced as one of the most comical in which the Ritz trio has yet appeared.

5 Sullivan Bros. Heroes of Movie

Out of the dramatic headlines of World War II have come the most stirring motion pictures of the year. But the advance word from Hollywood is that none have been greater than 20th Century-Fox's production of "The Sullivans," which opens today at the Dominion Theatre.

Heading the brilliant cast of the story of the lives of the five famous brothers are Anne Baxter and Thomas Mitchell, with Selena Royle, Edward Ryan, Trudy Marshall, John Campbell, James Cardwell, John Alvin and George Offerman Jr. in featured roles.

"The Sullivans" was directed by Lloyd Bacon and produced by Sam Jaffe, with Robert T. Kane, associate producer. The screen play for the stirring and heart-warming film was written by Mary C. McCall Jr., from the story by Edward Doherty and Jules Schermer.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES

Everybody has heard of Jack Oakie and very few people know John Philliber. But it took Oakie to recognize the 70-year-old character man on the set of Rene Clair's "It Happened Tomorrow," the film which is now enjoying so successful a run at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres through United Artists release.

The first day Oakie worked he stepped up to the little fellow and asked: "Aren't you John Philliber?"

"Yep, that's me, Mr. Oakie," replied the surprised old man, who thought he knew no one in Hollywood.

"Remember when we used to eat dog food togther when the going got tough back in New York?" quizzed Oakie.

"Don't remember ever having eaten dog food with you," replied Philliber. "But you look an awful lot like an old friend whom I darn near starved with one time . . . fellow named Lew Offield."

"That's me!" said Oakie! "Lewis Delaney Offield."

CAPITOL THEATRE

It's Charlie Spivak (the man who blows "the sweetest horn this side of heaven") and his orchestra who furnish the scintillating musical embellishments to "Pin Up Girl," 20th Century-Fox's dazzling new technicolor musical, starring Betty Grable and currently being shown at the Capitol Theatre. Also featured in the gay extravaganza are Martha Raye, Joe E. Brown, Eugene Pallette and the Skating Vanities.

WHAT JAPS ARE LIKE

"The Dyess Story"; the complete eye-witness account of the Death March from Bataan, by Lt.-Col. Wm. E. Dyess, edited with a biographical introduction by Charles Leavelle, published by Longmans, Green & Co., Toronto.

THE story of Col. Dyess and his companions and the atrocities they had witnessed was withheld by the U.S. government in the fear that its publication would result in death to thousands of American prisoners still in Japanese hands. When all hope of aiding the prisoners passed, the story was released. It was first published serially by the Chicago Tribune, but in its releases many incidents were omitted. These contribute greatly to the graphic reality of the story and are included in this complete version. The book is illustrated with photographs and maps.

Col. Dyess escaped to tell the story of the death march from Bataan when the Japanese took prisoners to the first of the prison camps. It is an almost unbearable story of conscienceless cruelty which the American hero tells in full and painful detail. In the opening chapters he relates the story of those last days before Bataan was surrendered and gives a picture of the firm courage of the few thousands who held the Philippines for four long months. On the march of death that followed, most of the prisoners were practically without food for six days, others for 12 days, and all almost without water except for a few sips from carabao wallows. For 361 days he "existed," as he says, "in three prison camps and a prison ship; a period of starvation and horror that took the lives of about 6,000 men who started from Bataan." In his final chapters Col. Dyess tells the exciting story of his escape.

Some five months after Col Dyess was flown home and had recovered from the effects of his desperate experience, he returned to duty and was killed last December in an airplane crash on the west coast.

HEROES IN THE PACIFIC

"Ten Escape From Tojo"; the story of Japanese cruelty, by Commander Melvyn H. McCoy, U.S.N., and Lt.-Col. S. M. Mellnik, U.S.A., as told to Lieut. Welbourn Kelley, U.S.N.R., published by Oxford University Press, Toronto.

THIS is the story of Commander Melvyn H. McCoy, graduate of Annapolis, and Lt.-Col. S. M. Mellnik, graduate of West Point, and their eight comrades, who with them escaped from the Japanese. "Ten Escape From Tojo" tells of the suffering, the torture, the death brought to thousands of helpless prisoners of Japan by their ruthless captors. This epic of the heroes of Bataan and Corregidor, told by two of the survivors, has been released with the permission of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Here is an excerpt from the book, which, with others like it, is published so that thousands who are safely away from battle zones may know the nature of the enemy they are fighting:

"In war, casualties are expected. Some men are killed outright, others are wounded, but recover. Still others lose an arm, a leg, or are mutilated in other ways, and they bear the scars or pains of this mutilation for the rest of their lives. These grim consequences of war are accepted as a part of war's terrible custom and tradition. It is also a custom and tradition of war that, when men fight honorably and are forced to lay down their arms in surrender, the war for them has reached an end. As helpless prisoners of war, such men do not expect to be pampered. But they do expect enough food, shelter, clothing and medical care to keep them alive. They do expect reasonably decent treatment from their captors and they do expect their captors to treat them as human beings. These things they expect under the comity of nations which decrees that there be honor even among peoples which are at war."

NEW ERA IN EUROPE

"The British Commonwealth," by Sir Edward Grigg, Liveright Publishing Corporation, New York.

SIR EDWARD GRIGG, former British Under-Secretary of State of War, in this book indicates that the British Empire and Commonwealth is on the verge of a new era, which will be characterized by the touch of Winston Churchill.

Certain principles are set forth which, the author says, must underlie future constructive thought about the Commonwealth: (1) "The independent sovereignty of governments and parliaments should in no way be impaired." (2) "In applying the co-operative rule of the Commonwealth in any particular situation, full allowance should be made for the effects of geography, custom, sentiment and race."

Those areas of the colonial empire which are now denied self-determination would be granted a progressively greater degree of independence as they become better able to defend themselves. The members of the Commonwealth would work together for preservation of peace and promotion of organized security, and to this end the co-operation of the United States would be almost indispensable.

Regional councils, patterned after the present imperial conferences, are to be instituted in those areas where the responsibilities of different parliaments converge; that is, in the Pacific, in Africa and in the Atlantic. Britain herself, under this program, would assume the difficult role of giving leadership to the nations of western Europe.

Your Garden . . . .

Cecil Solly's Garden Notebook

WATCH THE SHRUBS!

Hundreds of shrubs of all kinds suffered much from lack of sufficient soil moisture last summer. Many of them only showed slight sign of the trouble this spring. Others turned brown or became diseased.

Those same shrubs . . . right now . . . are in the same waterless state as last year, but the tough time they experienced last summer has not left them able to stand another year of dought and live.

Rhododendrons, camellias, azaleas and all other flowering evergreens as well as the coniferous shrubs will have to be checked on at once.

Take a spade or trowel and dig down around them, carefully so as not to damage the roots. If the ground is dry . . . and it will be . . . you must immediately supply plenty of water . . . enough to thoroughly wet the soil deep down where the roots can use it.

Moistening only the soil surface is just wasted time and energy and does more harm than good.

One of the most important places to investigate whether the moisture has gone down properly, is around shrubs that are growing against the house.

SHADE FOR TOMATOES

Tomato blossoms are sensitive when exposed to the direct, hot afternoon sun and, although they turn away from it, often fail to set because of this lack of natural shade. Generally the first blossoms drop for this reason of sun exposure.

If possible, place the stakes on the west side of each tomato plant, for even this small amount of shade cast by the stake will make a noticeable difference in the number of fruits which will set on each truss.

One of the best and simplest methods of shading tomato plants sent in to me was from a gardener in Olympia.

He says: "I cut some large fan-shaped fir boughs and hung them so as to keep the hot sun off the plants. The results were wonderful. The boughs were left on about two weeks. I now have the nicest tomatoes I have ever raised. I have counted 23 tomatoes on one branch. Before I tried this I had staked and pruned my tomatoes carefully, but, although full of blossoms, they did not form tomatoes."

In this district we experience a great fluctuation of temperature from day to night at a time when the first flower buds are already to set fruit. When buds drop off, the result is a beautful but fruitless vine. The flowers on any tomato plant are quite capable of seiding each other with a little assistance.

To help set the fruit . . . shake the flower clusters during the warmest hour of the day. This shaking helps dislodge the pollen and helps self-fertilization.

Most effective way to set every flower on your tomato plants is to do the work by artificial means . . . that is . . . by using the plant hormone spray method.

Tests have proved that these hormones, when sprayed on each group of flowers as they open, will not only set every flower on the stem, but in almost every case the fruits are solid meat and entirely seedless.

CHERRY SLUGWORM

Many readers during the past weeks have sent in samples of the leaves of cherry trees with an insect on them. I think the best description was that it looked like a shiny, baby pollywog. Leaves in almost every case were skeletonized.

The pest which also appears on hawthorn and pear trees, if left unchecked, will skeletonize all the tree leaves.

The "fly" is black with dusky wings. The "larva" is olive-green in color, but covered with a black slime. The head end is enlarged, but it tapers posteriorly. These characteristics have given it the popular name of "slugworm."

Sawflies appear in June and lay their eggs in slits along the veins of the leaf. On hatching out, the slugworms feed upon the upper surface of the leaves, causing pale patches which gradually turn brown, dry out and sometimes crack. When full grown the slime disappears and the larva becomes paler in color, eventually going into the ground to pupate. A second generation appears in late summer and the damage is then often more serious as the drying up of the leaf prevents the new wood from ripening properly. This second generation does not pupate until spring.

Note that unless checked the ones now on the leaves will most likely prevent the new wood from ripening, which might cause winter dieback and some failure of the buds to set fruit next year.

CONTROL

This pest is susceptible to almost any contact insecticide. Rotenone, pyrethrum and oil nicotine in liquids or dusts seem to be equally effective, but, of course, the sooner the spray is used the less damage is done. Best time to use insecticide is right after the cherry fruit is picked.

It is said that lime, sprinkled on the soil around the trees when the larva are entering the soil to pupate will help control them also.

SULPHUR DUSTS ON VINES

After a series of tests it has now been definitely established that the vegetable vines . . . cucumbers, squash and melons . . . definitely suffer when sulphur is used on or near them. In fact one authority claims that they are allergic to sulphur and that any dust or spray material containing sulphur may not be used on them during the heat of the summer.

When the weather is cool or cloudy sulphur is an excellent fungicide, but it does burn plant foliage when the temperature is over 80 degrees.

Asks Equal Treatment For Coast Fish Boats

A request that P.C. 3979, granting special depreciation allowances on new fishing schooners, be extended to include owners of boats on the Pacific as well as the Atlantic coast, was sent to R. W. Mayhew, M.P., by the directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce at their meeting Thursday afternoon.

The matter was brought to the attention of the chamber by P. A. Gibbs, reporting on Excess Profits Tax matters. At the present time the special depreciation allowance is only allowed owners of boats on the Atlantic coast.

A request made by the Hon. E. C. Carson, Minister of Trade and Industry, to the Dominion government asking that $400,000 be granted in supplementary estimates to the B.C. Industrial and Scientific Research Council for buildings and equipment, was endorsed by the chamber.

Maj. Cuthbert Holmes was appointed to the Technical Advisory Committee on Secondary Industries of the Research Council, at the request of R. S. O'Meara, trade commissioner.

A proposal from the Real Estate Board that the extension of the Marine Drive around the Saanich Peninsula be endorsed by the chamber was turned over to the Rehabilitation Committee. W. O. Wallace, president of the Saanich Board of Trade, appeared before the directors and outlined the gaps that exist in the present drive.

A letter was received from Hon. Ray Atherton, United States Ambassador to Canada, stating that he had accepted the invitation to speak to a joint meeting of the chamber, the Canadian Club, and the Gyro Club, Aug. 21, at luncheon.

More Accommodation Through Conversions

Six conversions, extending housing accommodation, were among eight projects for which the city's zoning board of appeal Thursday granted approval.

Mr. and Mrs. William Schade were given permission to extend the number of suites at 1249 Rockland Avenue to 14, and Lt.-Col. A. M. Kent's plans to change 228 Douglas into a five-suite apartment were approved.

Similarly, Mrs. Violet White was authorized to change 250 Government into a four-suite apartment. A. Johnson, 2015 Runnymede, secured permission to change his house into a seven-suite structure, Mrs. J. Gillis to convert 1158 Kings into a two-family home, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gwilt to make 2945 Quadra into a three-suite apartment.

C. A. Brydges was given a temporary license to operate a craft shop at 259 Cook.

Army Court-martial Acquits Colonel

WOODSTOCK, Ont. (CP)—Lt.-Col. N. A. McIntosh of the Canadian Army driving and maintenance school, was acquitted Thursday by an army court-martial on a charge of ill-treating a soldier. The court's findings on a second charge of conduct prejudicial to good order in the army was forwarded to military headquarters in Ottawa and will be announced there.

The charges were based on an incident in the officers' mess, June 26, with Col. McIntosh being accused of attacking Cpl. W. J. Sillers, assistant mess steward, for refusing him a drink on the grounds his liquor quota was used up.

Amateur Gardener

By E. L. F.

THIS YEAR, owing to the generally dry weather, spring sown and planted onions are running to seed more than usual. There is no mistaking the flower spike which precedes seed formation. It arises from the centre of the plants.

Nip off this flower spike as soon as it shows and the onion bulb will be saved. Allow it to develop and the reserve material that has been stored in the bulb will pass into the flower spike, and there will be nothing worth lifting when the time comes.

By the way, don't imagine that if you allow a few flower spikes to remain, you will be able to get seed this year. It is far too late for them to mature.

If your onions are still free from flower spikes, you can keep them so by regularly stirring the earth between the rows and by watering two or three times a week while the weather remains dry.

CARE OF MARROWS

Don't allow your trailing marrows to ramble all over the place. Prevent them from doing so by nipping out any shoots that you can see are going to straggle beyond the general outline of the marrow bed. If the plants are getting too leafy, cut off a sufficient number of old leaves to let in a reasonable amount of air and light. Peg down your marrow shoots every two feet or so, and they will root into the earth, increasing the food absorption possibilities 100 per cent.

Don't forget that hand pollination is very necessary if you want a full crop of perfect marrows. As you will observe the female marrow blossom has a tiny bulging marrow at its base, while the male blossom bursts forth in all its glory on a long, thin stem. For pollination use male blossoms, not more than a day old. Strip the petals off and place the pollen-covered centre inside the female flower.

Bees and other small insects will soon mix the pollen and your marrow crop is assured. If young marrows start to decay at the flower end, cut them off and burn them. They may be diseased and if left on the vines will spread the trouble rapidly. Cut your marrows when they are young. It gives the later ones a chance to develop.

If your celery is refusing to grow, you can shake it out of its stubbornness by lifting and replanting. It is surprising what a quick improvement there is after this is done. We do not mean to suggest that you will have to make a new trench for the plants. It is merely the move that gives good results—not necessarily an entirely new site.

All that is necessary is that you don't replant exactly in the same site in the trench, but two or three inches away. Allowing the necessary difference at the beginning of your row and you will be right all the way through. A tablespoonful of leaf mold in each planting hole will be an additional aid to quick rerooting.

Beets are one of the crops that is not affected by any but the hardest frost. In an average Victoria winter you can leave them out of doors all the time, pulling as you need them. Should the winter be severe, our hard weather rarely starts until January and by that time, you can, if you sow now, have some good beets from the crop.

To speed germination steep the seed overnight in clear water. You won't need to manure the ground, just fork it a foot deep, tread fairly firm and rake evenly. Then sow thinly in three-quarter inch deep rows, spaced eight inches apart.

Deferred Men Being Replaced

The job of replacing men who are working at civilian jobs on deferment from the armed services is continuing in Victoria. The deputy fire chief reported that a man had been sent to him from Selective Service to replace one of the fire department's men who is now on deferment.

C. A. Mudge, manager of Selective Service here, explained that over a year ago a survey had been made by Selective Service officials of all "designated establishments," that is firms employing men in A or B priority categories, to ascertain how many men on deferment they had on their staffs.

When this information, called the "Mobilizatio Survey Plan," was completed the employers were required to list orders with Selective Service for each of these men, and as men come to the Selective Service office who are qualified to replace any man on deferment they are sent out to the firm.

"It is a routine matter," Mr. Mudge said. "And we are sending out men like this all the time to different firms."

He pointed out that actually a man on deferment is only on loan to the employer from the army so that essential production will be maintained and that as soon as the man can be replaced by someone who is not subject to military call, the needs of the army must come first.

At the time the survey was made all employers were supplied with copies of the regulations so that they should be adequately informed as to what is going on.

Full Pay for Injured

Labor's move to have injured workmen given full pay during the period of their absence from work was advanced to the managements of the V.M.D. and Yarrows by representatives of the Victoria Shipyard Council today Robert Noble, Machinists' Union business agent, said today.

The firms were asked to continue men on full pay and then seek repayment by the Workmen's Compensation Board of the 66 2-3 per cent of wages paid by the board.

Famed Mine of '98 In Kootenays Reopens

The old Referendum mine property, part of the famed Poorman Granite, 11 miles from Nelson, B.C., from which Link Davenport half a century ago made his millions with which he built the big hotel in Spokane named after him, has been acquired by Robert G. McLeod, Seattle real estate man, and is being put under private redevelopment by Mr. McLeod and W. J. Sturgeon, chief clerk of the Supreme Court at Nelson, with no stock to be sold, it was announced today following Mr. McLeod's arrival at the Parliament Buildings.

A statement issued said that Cecil Crossley, metallurgist and assayer at Nelson, has assumed charge of the technical end, and that a contract is to be let for a 2,000-foot tunnel to cut the vertical shafts of the old workings at 500 feet depth. A power plant is being put in and the preliminary crew is already at work on the property, where there are the remains of the old five-stamp mill which produced the gold bricks in the Boundary Country's fabulous year 1898.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS PICNIC

Three hundred knights and sisters of the Knights of Pythias of Victoria and Sidney attended a picnic at the Cedar Hill home and grounds of Past Grand Chancellor George Allison. The older people talked amongst themselves, the young children played games, and the young knights and sisters played fastball. Knight D. Stewart and his committee organized a program of races for the children and adults.

Field Day Stirs Keen Interest

Keen interest is being taken by the auxiliary fire crews and stirrup pump teams who will take part in competitions under the direction of Chief A. Munroe, Victoria fire department, at 10.30 Sunday morning in the vacant space at the rear of city fire headquarters.

At 4 Sunday afternoon in Civil Defence Headquarters a number of incident officers, connected with Civil Defence in Victoria, will compete for valuable prizes.

At 8 Monday night members of the Canadian Auxiliary Territorial Service, who act as telephonists in Civil Defence Headquarters, will compete for prizes.

Bomb reconnaissance officers will meet at 8 Tuesday night in the vacant space at the rear of the Baker Brick & Tile Co., Douglas, and will be examined as to their knowledge on all types of bombs by members of the Royal Canadian Engineers. Work carried out by the members of the R.C.E., with reference to this event is deserving of the greatest praise.

Starting at 6.30 on Tuesday night members of the Casualty Services, including St. John Ambulance Brigade, St. John Ambulance Nursing Division, Warden Nursing Service, Canadian Red Cross, Decontamination Squads and Rescue Squads, will participate in numerous events dealing with work in connection with Civil Defence. About 250 contestants have already entered these competitions to be held at Royal Athletic Park. In the absence of Mayor A. McGavin, Ald. J. A. Worthington will present the prizes. The services of capable judges have been secured.

Nazis Try New Terror Weapon, Crewless Plane With Explosives

ON THE BRITISH FRONT IN FRANCE (AP)—A German attempt to exploit a new aerial weapon—a pilotless pick-a-back bomber crammed with high explosives—ended in a spectacular but harmless crash into the sea off a British beachhead.

The crewless plane was shot down by an R.A.F. fighter several nights ago.

Capt. R. C. Lewis, who witnessed the end of the bomber from his beach anti-aircraft post, said "the idea is old but the Germans have given it a new twist."

"It's a Messerschmitt-109 fighter 'married' to a Junkers-88 bomber. The Junkers is stripped of all armament and its glass-house, or nose, is filled with explosives to make a warhead.

"The planes take off together, pick-a-back style, with the Junkers remotely controled by the Messerschmitt pilot who guides it until the last moment when it is set on a course to crash against a selected target."

Strong Nazi Force Needed to Combat French Uprising

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE (AP)—Patriot uprisings finally have forced the Germans to use strong forces, backed by artillery and bombers, in an attempt to maintain their hold on southern France, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower announced Thursday.

In some places Maquis (brush) fighters were forced to disperse from areas where they had wrested control and in others they withdrew in fierce fighting which inflicted heavy losses on the enemy, but the Germans were punching at a shadow, the Supreme Commander's communique disclosed.

The French sometimes were attacking 1,000 strong, withdrawing and hitting again in increasingly telling blows—now all the more crucial as the U.S. drive into Brittany carries the threat of a full-scale battle for northern France.

The French have continued breaking communication lines, one of the weakest points in the German set-up for defence in the west.

Rail traffic was declared suspended in the Loire-et-Oher district, a 46-car train was attacked in the Rhone valley and a train moving up gasoline badly needed by the Germans was a Maquis target in the Isere region.

The communique said damage to locks and barges hampered canal and river traffic and wire lines were cut.

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP)—Standard Oil Company of Alaska, with headquarters at Whitehorse, now is operating and will continue to operate and maintain the Canol refinery and the pipeline between Whitehorse, Norman Wells, N.W.T., and points in Alaska and northwest Canada, it was announced Thursday by the U.S. Northwest Service Command.

The firm also will be responsible for the maintenance of the pipeline access road from the wells to the refinery.

Harvest General By Mid-August

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Winnipeg Tribune in a crop survey Thursday said wheat cutting in the prairie provinces, now underway at some Manitoba points, will be general by Aug. 15.

Manitoba crops give promise of a bumper harvest; in Saskatchewan, except for three dry areas, prospects are excellent, while conditions in Alberta vary from "very poor" in the extreme southwest, to excellent in central-northern areas.

'Boxing Marquis' Killed in Action

Boeing of Canada May Make Spares For Superfortress

Parts for B-29's — the superfortress blasting Japan's homeland — are to be turned out by Boeing Aircraft of Canada Ltd., in a program now being discussed by Seattle and Vancouver officials of Boeings.

Stanley Burke, president of the Canadian firm, is in conference with officials of the United States Company.

Boeing operates a branch factory in the Plimley Building at Yates and Vancouver Streets. This plant has been turning out floats and wing tips for the big Canso flying boats; which are assembled in Vancouver. It is quite possible that some of the smaller work on the B-29's will be done in Victoria.

Lift Restrictions On Island Logging

Restrictions on logging operations throughout the Vancouver Forest District were lifted at noon Thursday by C. J. Haddon, district forester. The order includes all of Vancouver Island.

Apparent reason for lifting of the restriction was the advent of rain today. Scattered drops were felt in Victoria at noon today but reports from Vancouver said rain was general in that district.

Ex-Capone Aide Slain With Pal

CHICAGO (AP)—"Dago" Lawrence Mangano, public enemy, and his companion, Mike Pantillo, were fatally shot Thursday in typical, clueless gangland assassination.

The killers, driving what John T. Warren, deputy Chief of Detectives, called "that same old black car," pulled up beside Mangano's automobile and pumped several shots into him, then drove around the block and returned, firing several more shots and wounding Pantillo.

Mangano was described by police as a former aide to the one-time gang chief, Al Capone.

Delay Vote Date

EDMONTON (CP)—Voting by Alberta servicemen and women stationed at military centres throughout the province in the Aug. 8 provincial election has been changed from Aug. 4 to Aug. 7, it was announced Wednesday by Robert A. Andison, chief electoral officer. Time was lacking to complete final arrangements for Aug. 4.

Strikers Resume Work At Prince Rupert

PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—Approximately 450 members of the Boilermakers' and Iron Shipbuilders' Union (C.I.O.) went to work today, following a decision Thursday night to refer grievances to a board of conciliation.

The men went on strike last Wednesday at the Prince Rupert drydock to protest working with what they termed "anti-union" employees.

Pending the arbitration ruling, the union will try to convert six workers to the ways of unionism, which move, if successful, will dissolve differences without the need for a hearing before the conciliation board.

At Thursday night's meeting it was stated three of the six non-union employees concerned already had expressed willingness to join the union.

Prior to the vote directing the men to return to work, telegrams from the Canadian Shipyard Workers' Federation, Vancouver, and the Canadian Congress of Labor were read. They condemned the strike as contrary to the agreement in effect between the union and the management.

Official opinion of five local American Federation of Labor unions was that the strike was not in accord with the open shop agreement held with the drydock.

George Stanton, Boilermakers' president, said he had advised against the strike, but the members had refused to return to work Wednesday afternoon and remained out during Thursday.

150,000 Perish As Patients In Nazi Hospital

MOSCOW (AP)—The Ukraine state atrocities committee charged today that 150,000 patients died in a German hospital at Slavuto, about 160 miles west of Kiev, during the two years of Nazi occupation.

The committee charged that German doctors intentionally spread infectious diseases by herding new patients at gunpoint into a room where 1,800 were already were dying of typhoid and tuberculosis.

The committee included medical and legal experts. Their findings were given a full page, with photographs, in all Soviet newspapers.

PATIENTS STARVED

The patients were starved to death on a diet of 250 grams of ersatz flour, made of ground wood pulp and containing less than two per cent of starch, the committee said.

Other charges were:

Red Army prisoners were tortured and beaten, and many were buried alive. Hospital newcomers were robbed of warm clothing and shoes by guards.

All attempt at escape were punished by death.

Barbed wire, searchlights and machine guns surrounded ten brick barracks, where 15,000 to 18,000 wounded and diseased were housed.

Throughout the two years an average of 800 to 900 corpses lay on the ground at a hospital railway siding, and only 525 persons remained alive in the hospital when the Red Army liberated Slavuta.

Halifax Strikers Get Other Jobs

HALIFAX (CP)—Nearly 500 Halifax shipyards workers have been given temporary employment in other industries by Selective Service here as the strike of 3,000 shipyards employees enters its second week with no indication of an early settlement.

Gordon B. Isnor, M.P. for Halifax, in a letter to Jas. O'Connell, president of the Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers, Local No. 1 (C.C.L.), said he had gone into the matter with Naval Minister A. L. Macdonald "in an effort to expedite a settlement at the earliest possible moment."

G. A. Lough, manager of the Selective Service here, said many of the 500 strikers given temporary employment elsewhere for the duration of the tie-up are taking jobs in other than their regular trades, and that some of the workers from outside points are asking a permanent release from the shipyards.

The strike started when Halifax Shipyards refused to accept a Federal Conciliation Board's recommendation check-off and maintenance of membership clauses be included in the company's next contract with the union.

Octogenarian Rescued

LYTTON, B.C. (CP)—Joseph Copeland, 84, discoverer of the Golden Cache Mine, is in hospital here suffering from exposure. He was discovered Wednesday lying in the woods in the Cayoosh Creek area, near Lytton. He was stricken while on a fishing and prospecting trip and had been in the woods four days before he was found.

BUFFALO BILL'S BOYHOOD DREAM CAME TRUE WHEN HE OPENED SHOW

While I have been writing about Buffalo Bill, a picture has come back to me. It is the memory of this man as he looked when I saw him personally during my boyhood.

It was on the day of a "Wild West" show. Near the main tent, I saw him as he rode up on a fine white steed, and halted within about 15 feet of where I stood. Probably he did not see me, but I looked at him with keen interest. He sat straight in the saddle, despite his age of about 65 years.

In his later life, Buffalo Bill had long white hair, as well as a white mustache and short white beard.

While watching the show, I found that he had kept his skill in shooting. While he rode about, he fired at round balls which were perhaps as large as tennis balls and which were thrown high into the air. Almost every time he shot he would split the ball into pieces. Once I believe he took two shots, striking the ball the second time.

Since that time I have wondered what happened to the bullets when they came down.

When he was a boy, Cody "played circus" with his sisters. Always he wanted to have Indians in the show, and more than once he "scalped" a doll, a stunt which his sisters failed to enjoy.

One sister, Helen, tells of a day when her brother declared, "I believe I will run a show when I get to be a man!"

At the age of 36, Cody made his dream come true. For many years he had been a scout on the western plains, often fighting against Indians. Now, however, he hired a large number of Indians of the Sioux, Cheyenne and other tribes to appear before the public. He also took into his show many cowboys and scouts.

The first performance was given at Omaha, Neb., in May, 1883. Later, the Wild West show traveled to dozens of cities east of the Mississippi River.

In 1886 Buffalo Bill took his show to England, and large crowds came to see it. Among those who watched was Queen Victoria.

Buffalo Bill also toured the continent of Europe with his Indians and cowboys. They returned in safety, and for many years were popular as they went from city to city in the United States. The famous scout died in 1917, shortly before his seventy-first birthday. He was buried in a tomb on Lookout Mountain, 20 miles from Denver.

May Boost Pay

REGINA (CP)—More pay for provincial civil servants is under study of the Saskatchewan government. Labor Minister C. C. Williams said Thursday the government was looking into the question of raising civil service wages, especially those in the low income classes.

Expand Air Service

NEW YORK (AP) — Postwar plans for expanded air transportation to and from Latin and South America have been released by two airlines, Pan-American World Airways system and Pan-American-Grace Airways Inc. (Panagra). Pan-American announced it would reduce travel time on express planes from New York to Buenos Aires from the present 91 hours and 15 minutes to 21 hours and 25 minutes, and that fares would be as little as 3½ cents a mile on long-distance runs. Panagra's plans call for a "great circle route," with only three stops from Balboa to Buenos Aires.

Mothers Leave London

LONDON (CP)—The government's program to clear London of women and children was stepped up today following the 14-hour record flying-bomb blasting of Thursday. All mothers with children of school age now may register for evacuation.

Heretofore all children were eligible for government aid in leaving, but only expectant mothers or those with children under five years of age came under the program.

Say Nazi Troops Leaving Finland

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The newspaper Aftonbladet said today that long trainloads of German troops had been seen moving toward Hango, Finland's southwestern coastal fortress, where transports were waiting to carry them out of the country.

The newspaper, which quoted a traveler from Finland, said the troops were taking their guns and tanks with them.

Nazis Count Their Hogs

NEW YORK (AP)—The Nazis plan to take a census of all pigs in Germany Sept. 5, according to an article in the Munich newspaper Neueste Nachrichten, the U.S. Office of War Information said today.

One Woman's Day . . .

By NANCY HODGES

ON CHEWING GUM

A FEW years ago the air rang with a popular song which had for its theme the destination of flies in the wintertime.

While the answer to that question didn't interest me very much, I do confess that my curiosity has often been aroused over another equally noxious phenomenon.

That is, what happens to all the chewed chewing gum?

After a recent experience, I have an inkling of its final resting place. For I was sitting in the park, admiring the panorama of sea and distant Olympics, when a boy came along.

His jaws were working vigorously, so I recognized him as member of the Noble Order of Gum-Chewers. As he got near he removed the gum from his cheek, then popped it under the corner of the seat.

STRANGE PHENOMENON

WHEN I GENTLY remonstrated, he upped and said: "Aw, would you sooner I parked it behind my ear?"

As I had no answer to that question, he resumed his way whistling blithely, regardless of the fact that I was feeling decidedly queasy.

The gum-chewing habit is one of those strange phenomena which are part and parcel of our so-called modern civilization.

Not being an initiate into the N.O.O.G.C. I cannot appreciate the delectable joys which seem to come from tireless jaw gyrations about a succulent something which looks like a piece of tire-patch.

However I am told, on the best authority, that it is invaluable to the soldier and the athlete, because it produces saliva and helps to relieve tension in time of great strain.

That may be, but I have noticed that on less strenuous occasions it produces an effect on the addict which looks like the ruminative processes of cud-chewing cattle.

SURVIVAL OF WHAT?

I OFTEN wonder how the habit started. Perhaps it is a survival of pioneer days in the wild and wooly west, when baccy-chewing sourdoughs and similar he-men manipulated hard "chaws" in the proximity of capacious spitoons.

In any case, the gum habit came to us, as do many of our Canadian manners and customs, by way of the United States.

And having been given an insight into the gum-disposal problem in little Victoria, I tremble—and get slightly nauseated—when I think of it in terms of the millions of addicts in the land of our good neighbors to the south.

There it has reached the proportions of Big Business. And I am speaking in terms not merely of the production and sale of the stuff, but of its removal from those places in which its devotees hide the masticated residue.

CLEANERS WHO SPECIALIZE

FOR INSTANCE, in Rockefeller Centre, New York, the deposit of gum is on a Gargantuan scale commensurate with the size of that building.

So much so, that chewing gum crews do nothing but scrape and melt chewing gum from office floors, corridors and sidewalks in the Centre.

According to the New York Times magazine, there were as many as five or six gum removers before the war, but now that labor is scarce and chewing gum also, the crew is down to three.

Because it seems to harden to the consistency of plastic and adheres closer than glue — I have often wondered how to remove it.

OLD RAZOR BLADES

HENCE I was glad to learn from the same magazine source of another use for my husband's old razor blades.

The Centre buys new, but rejected, razor blades for gum removal. And it also uses large quantities of carbon tetrachloride to dissolve what the razor blades miss.

To complete the job, according to the article, twice a year the gum crews use a mechanical stiff bristle brush to scrub away "leprous patches" left after the razor blades and tetrachloride have had their whack.

— I've heard of menial and unpleasant occupations, but I can't imagine anything less elevating than this.

PICKERS-UP OF BUTTS

INCIDENTALLY, the Centre also employs three men who do nothing else all day but pick up cigarette butts! The modern version of Shakespeare's "snapper-up of unconsidered trifles."

What a wonderful commentary these occupations are upon modern civilization, personal tidiness and civic pride.

Gum chewers — that is those of the civilian persuasion—can take little comfort from the latest developments in the chewing gum industry.

Two big American manufacturers who deal in the commodity announce that they have had to cut civilian shipments to meet their military quotas, according to Business Week.

"WAR MODEL" GUM

FURTHER, Wrigley is starting general distribution of its war-model Orbit gum under a rationing plan that indicates this item will be none too plentiful.

I don't know what "war-model gum" is like. Perhaps it lacks stretching qualities—and gum chewers may be mourning the old stuff, as we women mourn the two-way stretch of dear departed girdles.

And, according to the same magazine, gum supplies on retail counters will be increasingly sparse until the East Indies and Malaysia are regained from Japanese occupation.

But if the Japanese occupation means a lessening of chewing gum deposits under park seats, then I for one hail this as the only good thing that has come out of anything Japanese for many a moon!

Buzz Bomb Plants Among Targets of Multiple Air Raids

LONDON (CP) — More than 1,200 U.S. heavy bombers attacked a variety of targets in Germany today, including the Peenemunde experimental station, where the enemy develops flying bombs and rockets.

About 1,000 fighters accompanied the bombers, making the armada 2,200 strong. Other targets included: A fighter parts plant and airfield at Anklam, 47 miles northwest of Stettin, an aircraft assembly plant at Rostock, at the Baltic, 110 miles northeast of Berlin, port installations at the great naval base of Kiel, and an oil refinery at Bremen.

The planes made a flying round-trip of about 1,200 miles to the German Baltic coast town of Peenemunde, 100 miles north of Berlin.

HIT SUPPLY ROUTES

Before dawn, bombers from Italy and Britain scourged German supply routes across France.

Weather cleared today over most of Europe, enabling the Allies to use fully their overwhelming air power, beginning at the crack of dawn. It was the first time in more than a week that the weather was described as excellent. Bombardiers dumped their lethal loads visually.

The Germans reported violent air battles over northwestern Germany, and claimed many U.S. planes were destroyed.

Early in the day, British and U.S. planes from Italy bombed the south of France rail yards at Portes les Valence and bridges near Nice and communications in the Po Valley of northern Italy. The Russians were reported bombing and strafing East Prussian villages and railroads in the path of advancing Red armies.

In widespread operations Tuesday Allied planes from Britain, Italy and Russia destroyed 108 German planes, communiques announced.

MORNING SKY CLEAR

Unfavorable weather again restricted operations of British-based planes Thursday night, but skies over France cleared at dawn, bringing the prospect of the first full day of heavy aerial activity in more than a week.

Normandy-based fighter bombers were in the air at the first sign of light in a renewal of the assault on German forces and installations beyond the battle line.

Negro Convicted Of 22 Murders

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — George Holman, 47-year-old negro cafe proprietor, was found guilty late Thursday night on 22 counts of murder in the first degree for setting the fire which destroyed the New Amsterdam Hotel on March 28.

Twenty-two persons, many of them war workers, lost their lives in the blaze.

The jury, after deliberating for seven and a half hours, brought in a verdict of guilty on all counts and recommended a life sentence for Holman.

Superior Judge Edward Murphy said the 22 sentences to life imprisonment could run either consecutively or concurrently, but did not indicate which way the sentences would be imposed.

The state had asked the death penalty.

47,000 Japs Caught On New Guinea, Guam

PEARL HARBOR (AP)—Two powerful traps today enmeshed more than 7,000 Japanese on Guam's north plateau and some 40,000 more in the British New Guinea jungles, with only death or surrender awaiting them.

Already the Japanese death toll in those areas is upwards of 26,000.

On Guam, where 7,893 enemy dead have been counted, U.S. marines and soldiers are pushing the Japanese toward the sea, with only eight miles to go.

More U-Boat Claims

LONDON (CP)—The German communique today claimed in an unconfirmed report that one Allied cruiser, three destroyers and five transport ships had been sunk "by weapons of the German navy and by German U-boats in waters off the invasion front."

Alberta Advance Vote

EDMONTON (CP)—Advance polling in Edmonton Thursday broke all records when 408 city voters cast ballots. The votes cast were "almost double" those of previous elections in the first day of a three-day advance poll. The advance polls will close tomorrow. General polling is set for Aug. 8.

Little Absenteeism Despite Tram Strike

MONTREAL (CP) The strike by 4,000 workers in the operating departments of the Montreal Tramways Company continued through the second day today and a speedy settlement to restore the streetcar service to the city appeared less hopeful.

Members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (C.C.L.), the workers said they were ready to carry the fight "to a finish" and talked of a strike lasting as long as two weeks.

The strike followed a vote by members of the C.B.R.E. in which they voted 3,520 to 78 in favor of a walkout after a conciliation board had refused to approve inclusion of a union shop clause in the collective bargaining agreement.

There was no report of any attempt to negotiate the strike Thursday although A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, was reported still in Ottawa where last-minute efforts to halt the strike Wednesday failed. Paul Emile Marquette, regional organizer of the C.C.L., said the union did not intend approaching the company union.

Plans were made by large industrial concerns and war plants in the district and there were few reports of absenteeism. Fleets of trucks were used by the firms to bring their employees to work while others traveled in automobiles or hitched rides from passing motorists.

Call for 4,000 Workers

EDMONTON (CP)—Fully 4,000 extra workers will be needed on Alberta farms for the harvest as compared with 3,000 from outside sources last year, Director of Agricultural Extension R. M. Putnam said today.

Accidental Death Jury Decides

Accidental death, resulting from injuries received when the motorcycle he was driving collided with a B.C. Electric car at Government and Niagara Streets, Sunday afternoon, was the verdict returned by a coroner's jury today at McCall's funeral parlor, investigating the death of Lawrence Jamieson, 27, of 2335 Howard Street.

Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, presided, and evidence was given by eight witnesses.

Constable Cecil Crouch of the B.C. Police told of seeing the motorcycle with a rider and passenger proceeding south on Government at what appeared to be a "very fast rate." Jennie MacDonald and Mary Norton, both passengers on the streetcar, said they saw the motorcycle coming down Government Street "very fast," but turned away before the crash.

"I could not see how they could make the corner at the speed they were traveling, and turned away not to see what I feared would happen," Jennie MacDonald said.

William Klingsat said Jamieson's eyesight was "fairly bad," and he had been rejected by the army because of it. Albert La Londe, who was on the motorcycle with the deceased, is still in hospital.

Would Buy Property For Comfort Station

Acquisition of property on the eastside of Blanshard, between Yates and Johnson, at a cost of $9,660 for comfort station purposes, will be recommended to the City Council by members of the health committee following its meeting today.

The committee will also ask the council to request R. W. Mayhew, M.P., to forward to the federal government a proposal that the new Post Office include provision for public conveniences. Members of the committee felt such provision by the government would compensate the city in part for the police, fire and other services Victoria provides federal establishments here without recompense.

Another recommendation would ask the council to bring before the Union of B.C. Municipalities' convention a resolution to amend provincial statutes in order to set up standards of cleanliness for restaurants. The committee also called for action to give the sanitary inspector power to close eating houses which flagrantly violated regulations. Another move called for enforcement of city by-law clauses requiring prepared food to be kept under covers.

A recommendation asking the council to request provincial authorities to establish a psychiatric ward at the Jubilee Hospital, was endorsed and members were told the Chinese Hospital administration by the Chinese Benevolent Association was continuing in a satisfactory way.
